School Board Member Recall Vote Approved

WISNER — (Special) — Gov. Earl K. Long has signed a proclamation for the recall election against Franklin parish school member A. J. Ensminger, ward 1, it was learned yesterday. The election was called for June 25th.

There were 298 signatures on a petition presented Monday to Secretary of State Wade O. Martin, Jr., by Dr. Henry E. Jones, chairman in charge of circulating the petition.

Efforts Climax
The recall election climaxed the efforts of a segment of ward 1 residents to have Miss Helen Glasgow removed from Wisner High School because of "questionable" teaching practices.

A petition asking for her removal was circulated about two months prior to the one asking for a recall election on Ensminger and charged that she would not teach her pupils sometimes as long as two weeks as disciplinary measure.

Miss Glasgow, in a statement to the News - Star - World, denied the allegations.

However, it was not presented to the Franklin parish school board, as is the customary step. Originally, the same group asking for the removal of Miss Glasgow, was seeking the ousting of Wisner High School Principal Wal-

Phone Prefix Shiftover Due Early Sunday

Operation Transition will send the Twin Cities and Sterling into the letter prefix telephone category Sunday at 1:01 a.m. sharp "without any difficulty," W. E. Whetstone, district manager of Southern Bell, said last night.

Monroe, West Monroe and Sterling numbers will be changed as quickly as the switch is thrown in the telephone office, Whetstone said.

Asks Limit
He asked residents in the Twin Cities and Sterling to limit their telephone calls between 12:15 a.m. and 1 a.m. because of the switch.

However, Whetstone explained that come 1:01 a.m., the Twin Cities and Sterling will be known in telephone circles across the nation as FAirfax and North.

All five digit numbers in Monroe and West Monroe will be automatically changed to be preceded by FA. Sterling numbers will be preceded by NO.

Four digit numbers, however, will be preceded by the number 2 and the prefix. For example 9044 in Monroe will be FA 2-9044. In Sterling, it will be NO 2-9044.

Change Explained
Whetstone explained again that the change to the letter prefix is a step closer to nation-wide "stomer's dialing. He said plans are being processed to install the system in "several years."

Under the nation-wide customer's dialing, Whetstone said that a Monroe caller, for instance, would be able to call a party anywhere in the nation by simply dialing his number.

Ties Between Honduras And Nicaragua Cut

Military Forces Clash Following Fight In Region

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, April 26 (UP)—Honduras broke diplomatic relations with Nicaragua today, charging that Nicaraguan forces "invaded" disputed territory in southeastern Honduras.

The decision to sever relations with Nicaragua followed reports of a clash between Honduran army troops and Nicaraguan national guardsmen near the border. The reports did not mention any casualties and failed to state the size of the opposing forces.

Junta Decides
An emergency meeting of the three-man Honduran military junta and all cabinet ministers resulted in an order to end diplomatic relations. Gen. Leonidas Pineda, Honduran ambassador to Nicaragua was ordered to return home immediately.

Government sources said Nicaraguan troops who advanced into disputed territory Thursday had crossed the Cruza River, a few miles north of the commonly-accepted border, and were thrusting deeper into Honduras.

In El Salvador
Gen. Roque Rodriguez, a member of the three-man Honduran military junta regime, flew to El Salvador today to try to win that country's support against the invaders.

The junta was said to be drafting an ultimatum to Nicaragua, demanding that that country withdraw its troops on pain of immediate "retaliatory action." Official sources said the invasion began last Friday when a group of 50 Nicaraguan troops entered the town of Cocoron, located 18 1/2 miles inside the Honduran border. The residents of the town were said to have fled toward Sisintar.

Albam Joins Pair In Spy Confession

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Jacob Albam, refugee alien member of a spy ring that sought American defense secrets for Russia, pleaded guilty today—as had the husband-wife espionage team with whom he worked.

Albam, 64, had been left out on a limb last April 10 by the guilty pleas of Jack Sobel 53, and his wife, Myra, 52. The two since have been cooperating with the government and presumably were available as prosecution witnesses against Albam should he have chosen to stand trial.

Instead, all three now face at most 10 years in prison and $10,000 fines on their guilty pleas. They will be sentenced next Friday by U.S. Judge Richard H. Levell.

Albam's attorney, Harold O. N. Frankel, told Judge Levell: "I have discussed the matter at length with him and advised him as to his rights. He admits he was in the conspiracy but, however, he has committed no substantive act against the U.S. government."

Outside of court, Frankel added: "Albam, in my opinion, is an elderly, scholarly gentleman who was really a very minor, minor figure in this conspiracy. Unfortunately, he became enmeshed in a (Continued On Five-A)

Estimated 3,000 Evacuated; Rains Measure 9 Inches

DALLAS, April 26 (UP) — Tornadoes and floods ravaged storm-battered Texas for the eighth consecutive day today and high waters sent thousands of persons fleeing from their homes in the Dallas and Fort Worth areas.

Torrential rains, unofficially measured between eight and nine inches, flooded creeks and rivers across thousands of square miles in West, Central, East and North Central Texas.

At least 12 tornadoes, most of them in East Texas, wrecked homes, schools and a church. Twenty-five homes were destroyed by one twister at Tyler, Tex., and 30 others were damaged.

Evacuated 3,000 Persons

Flooding waters continued to rise in Dallas tonight and police had evacuated between 2,500 and 3,000 persons from one section alone — the Roosevelt addition in the city's southeastern section. The addition is near the confluence of the flooding Trinity River and White Rock Creek.

Some 500 persons were evacuated from other sections of Dallas earlier, but some of them were able to return to their homes tonight when local flash floods subsided.

Highway patrolman Billy J. Lamb said between eight and nine inches of rain fell around Hamilton, 60 miles west of Waco, within an hour and a half late today.

Flooded Hamilton

The downpour flooded two creeks in Hamilton and sent muddy water up to six feet deep raging through residences and shops in the north and northwest parts of town. Some 60 families had to flee their homes.

Lamb said one person was missing in Hamilton. High water flooded about a dozen stores in downtown Hamilton, but the water was going down late tonight.

Three and four inch rains pelted numerous areas throughout the central part of Texas. Dozens of highways were cut by floods. There were flash floods in dozens of towns. Water was reported 12 feet deep on a farm road between Cooperas Cove and Gatesville in Central Texas.

92-Mile Winds

Winds up to 92 miles an hour were clocked in thunderstorms in West Texas. Several towns in Central and West Texas were without communications. Valley View, in North Central Texas, was isolated when floods cut all roads leading into the town.

At Fort Worth, police reported at 5 p.m. CST that between 300 and 500 persons there had been evacuated from homes mostly in the Richland Hills area outside the city limits, because of high water from Fossil Creek. All Fort Worth reserve police were summoned to duty to aid in the flood crisis.

Three more persons were counted in Texas' eight-day storm toll today making a total of 10 deaths since last Friday when a series of torrential rains and tornadoes began. Six others were injured by today's twisters.

$30 Million Damage
Texas' farm losses alone in land, crops and buildings were estimated by State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White at between $25 and $30 million for the week.

At Graham in North Central Texas the city water department was placed on an emergency basis and authorities there feared the local water plant would be flooded out by midnight.

More than 5 1/2 inches of rain had fallen in the Dallas and Fort Worth areas since midnight. In Dallas, 500 to 600 persons had been evacuated from their homes earlier before police issued their evacuation order for the 500 families in the Roosevelt addition.

Three major federal highways, U. S. 75-175-80 were closed to traffic out of Dallas.

Tornado Alert

The mid-section of the state, from the Rio Grande to Louisiana, was under a tornado alert until 8 p.m. Two funnels were reported in the Dallas area, where a tornado April 2 killed 10 persons and injured 200, but neither touched the ground.

Brass, rings, wine, robes and lot of mops proved to be stumbling blocks for thousands of entrants in this week's Morning crossword puzzle competition, leaving the $350 cash prize untouched.

There were no close answers in the weekly deluge of entries. Next week's jackpot will be worth $400.

CLUES ACROSS:
6. HAVE NOT SAVE or PAVE. It is usual to SAVE a lot of trouble (or, rather, labor) "with a vacuum cleaner," and "possible" to HAVE a "lot of trouble" with one. WAVE or PAVE are vague.
7. WIRE NOT WINE. "Warn you" implies an element of danger, but drinking cheap WINE in moderation could hardly be regarded as dangerous. Using cheap WIRE in an electric circuit could be dangerous. WISE is vague.
9. WEIGHT not HEIGHT. WEIGHT is sounder than HEIGHT because it can be applied to "twins" in general. "Twins" when they are born, do not really (Continued On Five-A)

W. Monroe Man Survives 120-Foot Plunge On Cycle

A 23-year-old West Monroe man barely escaped serious injuries last night when his motorcycle hit an auto and soared 120 feet from Highway 20 West about two miles outside the city limits.

Louisiana State Police identified the man as Bobby Hugh Turnage, of 602 Splane Drive, West Monroe.

Rushed to Hospital
A Kilpatrick ambulance rushed Turnage to the St. Francis Hospital where authorities said last night his exact condition was undetermined.

They added that no serious injuries were indicated last night. He was hospitalized.

Driver of the vehicle which Turnage's motorcycle slammed into was Henry Whitman, 37, of 3900 Cypress street, West Monroe.

Charges will be filed against Turnage, state police said. The man was not thrown from his cycle, but clung to the twisting, and bouncing vehicle as it plummeted from the Highway 80 about 7:20 p.m.

Both of the vehicles were traveling west, officers stated and Turnage was attempting to pass the Whitman auto as it made a left turn.

TO STOCK FARM PONDS

16,000 Bass Given Out In Parish Area

By BILL COLEMAN
Farm Editor

Over 16,000 large mouth bass were distributed to some 63 pond owners here in Ouachita parish as there will not be enough food for part of the Soil Conservation Service program, by the U.S. De-Stocking rate affects the size of pond of interior this week. The fish are fingerling size.

Fishponds make good and safe use of the land which is the basic step in both soil and water conservation. Ponds expand the farm economy and furnish food for both rural and urban residents. They can also furnish water for livestock and for fire protection and be used for recreation such as swimming and boating.

All ponds will produce some fish and if properly cared for will produce even more.

A fish pond must be stocked correctly and with the right kind of fish if it is to provide good fishing quickly and continuously. A combination of large - mouth bass and bream is dependable for warm water ponds such as we have in Ouachita parish. The bream spawn frequently all summer in these warm waters. The bass feed largely on little fish including their own young. Thus, they help prevent overpopulation in the pond. Large mouth bass do not grow satisfactorily unless they have small fish, such as bream to feed upon. If too many fish are stocked, there will not be enough food for each to reach usable size. The De-Stocking rate affects the size of pond of interior this week. The fish are fingerling size.

A good stocking rate for bass use of the land which is the basic step in both soil and water conservation. Ponds expand the farm economy and furnish food for both rural and urban residents. They can also furnish water for livestock and for fire protection and be used for recreation such as swimming and boating.

The ponds stocked in the area yesterday range in size from one-half to 15 acres. S. R. Aycock, parish work conservationist said.

Student Council Installs Officers

Neville High School's Student Council, installed its members and major officers in an impressive ceremony yesterday afternoon in assembly.

Warren Taylor was installed as the 27th president of the council, with Dan Keith taking the oath as vice - president.

Many prominent guests were present at the function, including past presidents such as the first one, Joy Steel McCue, Hugh Smith, Ben Downing, president in 1938-39, Robert Wood, president in 1940-41 and Vera Joe Cannon, president of the 1942-43 council.

Last night a special student council banquet was held in the Virginia Hotel for all students, alumni and faculty members. The featured speaker was Dr. H. J. Sachs, chairman of the Louisiana "Let English Department."

Date Announced For Bids On WM Sewerage Bonds

Bids for the purchase of $400,000 of municipal bonds will be accepted by the mayor and board of alderman of West Monroe, Tuesday city clerk Leon Wood said yesterday.

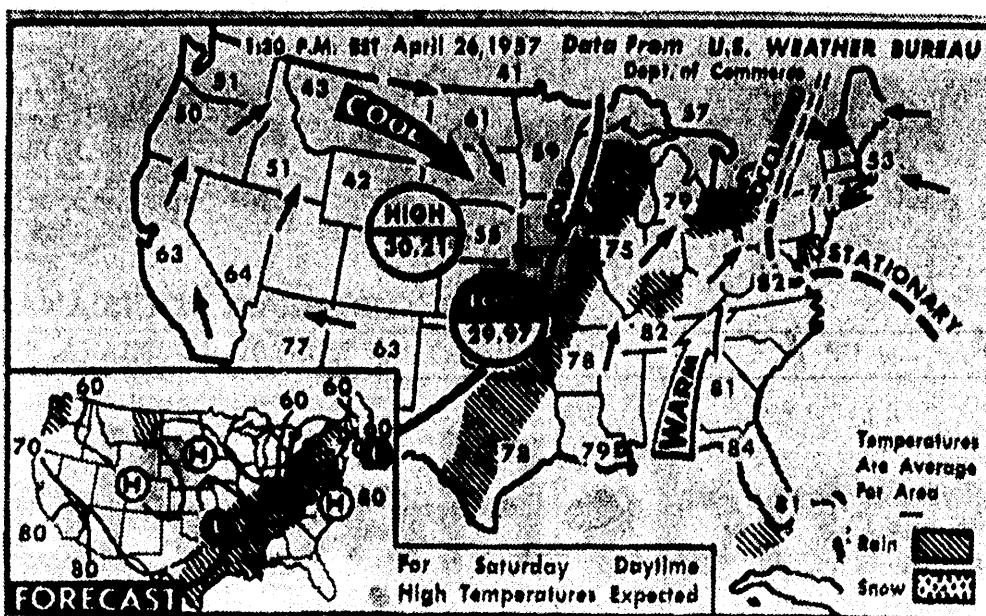

The sewerage system bond issue was voted last November and is divided into two sections. One was voted for the special sewer district embracing the McJure, Splane, Sunshine Heights and other developments in West Monroe; the other for $775,000 covers the entire city with many new lines and additional pumping stations.

The funds from the issue voted by the special district will be devoted, Mayor J. Allan Norris has explained, to installing sewerage facilities in the particular areas within the district, and the $775,000 will be used for expanding and strengthening the city's sewerage system as a whole.

The provision for the bond issue limits interest to a maximum of five per cent. The bonds, in denominations of $1,000 each, will be dated June 1, 1957. They will mature serially, from June of 1960 to June of 1987.

The two issues are to be offered separately.

ON LABOR CLEAN UP

Senate, House Groups Chairman Pledge Action

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP)—Chairmen of Senate and House committees today promised prompt action on President Eisenhower's call for legislation to wipe out the "abomination" of labor racketeering.

Several members of Congress called for even broader legislation than the President proposed in Augusta, Ga., after conferring with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Committee agreed with Eisenhower on the need for legislation to give the executive branch authority to look over union welfare and pension funds and make them public.

But McClellan said that "at least one further step is necessary." This step, he said, would be aimed at insuring "free elections and the democratic processes so that rank and file of union members can have and retain control of their union."

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-N. C.) of the House Labor Committee said his group would meet May 1. He indicated it would take up plans then for considering the President's recommendations.

Besides trying to safeguard union trust funds, the administration indicated it would try to increase Taft-Hartley labor-management law.

2 Shot To Death On Mexico Farm

VISTA HERMOSA, Mexico, April 26 (UP)—Two persons were killed in a shooting on a farm near the Vista Hermosa community Thursday, Mexican authorities reported today.

The dead were Victor Gomez, 18, and Herminio Rodriguez, 60. They were killed by blasts from a shotgun in a farm field. Officers arrested a 23-year-old man, but no charges were filed.

The two dead men were working in the field and officers said the suspect came up and started an argument with Gomez, Police said the suspect and Gomez had a long-standing feud.

Rodriguez was shot when he attempted to stop an argument between the two younger men. Police said Gomez then was shot three times with a shotgun.

THOUSANDS OF FINGERLINGS

16,000 Bass Given Out In Parish Area

By BILL COLEMAN
Farm Editor

Over 16,000 large mouth bass were distributed to some 63 pond owners here in Ouachita parish as part of the Soil Conservation Service program, by the U.S. Department of Interior this week. The fish are fingerling size.

Fishponds make good and safe use of the land which is the basic step in both soil and water conservation. Ponds expand the farm economy and furnish food to both rural and urban residents. They can also furnish water for livestock and for fire protection and be used for recreation such as swimming and boating.

All ponds will produce some fish and if properly cared for will produce even more.

A fish pond must be stocked correctly and with the right kind of fish if it is to provide good fishing quickly and continuously.

A combination of large-mouth bass and bream is dependable for warm water ponds such as we have in Ouachita parish. The bream spawn frequently all summer in these warm waters. The bass feed largely on little fish including their own young. Thus, they help prevent overpopulation in the pond. Large mouth bass do not grow satisfactorily unless they have small fish, such as bream to feed upon.

If too many fish are stocked, there will not be enough food for each to reach usable size. The stocking rate affects the size of the fish as well as the success of fishing.

A good stocking rate for bass and bream is 1,000 to 1,500 bream and 100 to 150 large mouth bass per surface acre for well-fertilized ponds or 500 bream and 50 bass for ponds of average fertility. These stocking rates, should produce about four (4) pounds of bream to each pound of bass. The bream should weigh from 3 to 6 ounces each, and bass from 12 ounces to a pound, 12 to 18 months after stocking.

A pond that is highly fertile will increase fish production, make possible one standard rate of stocking and will prevent the growth of submerged waterweeds.

The ponds stocked in the area yesterday range in size from one-half to 15 acres. S. R. Aycock, parish work conservationist said.

Student Council Installs Officers

Neville High School's Student Council, installed its members and major officers in an impressive ceremony yesterday afternoon in assembly.

Warren Taylor was installed as the 27th president of the council, with Dan Keith taking the oath as vice-president.

Many prominent guests were present at the function, including past presidents such as the first one, Joy Steel McCue, Hugh Smith, Ben Downing, president in 1938-39, Robert Wood, president in 1940-41 and Vera Joe Cannon, president of the 1942-43 council.

Last night a special student council banquet was held in the Virginia Hotel for all students, alumni and faculty members. The featured speaker was Dr. H. J. Sachs, chairman of the Louisiana Tech English Department.

Monroe Host City For JC State Confab

Monroe will be the host city for the Louisiana Junior Chamber of Commerce, Billy Hargiss, convention committee chairman announced yesterday.

The convention will be held May 17 through 19, with headquarters at the Frances Hotel.

State Jaycee president, James C. Usery of Monroe, will open the first general business session Friday, May 17 at 2 p.m.

Election of officers for the coming year will be elected Saturday at a session to be held at the Virginia Hotel. The local Jaycee's will host the ladies at a luncheon at the Frances Hotel.

The final business session will convene at 10 a.m. Sunday, May 19, and will adjourn at 12 noon.

Serving on the convention committee, in addition to Hargiss, are Don Gill, Pete Dowd, Bill Cummings, David Masur, Al Kessler, Jake Usery, Guy Jones, Harry Bell, Bob Aymond, John Kelso, Jr., A. E. Montgomery, Jr., Louis Whitfield, Buddy Tolson, Sam Davis, Buster Crowley, Ford Pipes, Jr., Ray Gable, and Fred Landry.

The Jaycee Jaynes committee includes Mary Dell Neill, Kiki Russell, Angie Hargiss, Peggy Tolson, Barbara Jones, Caroline Masur and Betty Dowd.

New Officers Selected By League Group

At the final session yesterday of the 13th annual convention of the Louisiana League of Women Voters, held at the Frances Hotel, new state officers for the years of 1957-59 were elected by delegates. Mrs. C. K. Morel of Lafayette is new president, succeeding Mrs. Joseph Daum of New Orleans who served during the past two years.

Resolutions adopted yesterday morning at the last meeting of the convention called for a "reform" of Louisiana's property tax structure, an increase of "home rule," and formulation of a "sound" financial system for public education.

The delegates elected a complete new slate of officers, including Mrs. Albert Lusch, New Orleans, first vice-president; Mrs. H. B. L'Heureux of Alexandria, second vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Dixon of Lake Charles, treasurer; and Mrs. David E. Brown, Baton Rouge, secretary.

Directors named are Mrs. John Guthrie, New Orleans; Mrs. Paul Murison, Metairie; Mrs. Wilbur Marvin, Baton Rouge; Mrs. Lee Terbush, New Orleans; Mrs. Lewis N. Semon, Shreveport, and Mrs. J. Fred Heath.

Date Announced For Bids On WM Sewerage Bonds

Bids for the purchase of $968,000 of municipal bonds will be accepted by the mayor and board of aldermen of West Monroe, Tuesday city clerk Leon Wood said yesterday.

The sewerage system bond issue was voted last November and is divided into two sections. One was voted for the special sewer district embracing the McJure, Splane, Sunshine Heights and other developments in West Monroe; the other for $775,000 covers the entire city with many new lines and additional pumping stations.

The funds from the issue voted by the special district will be devoted, Mayor J. Allan Norris has explained, to installing sewerage facilities in the particular areas within the district, and the $775,000 will be used for expanding and strengthening the city's sewerage system as a whole.

The provision for the bond issue limits interest to a maximum of five per cent. The bonds, in denominations of $1,000 each, will be dated June 1, 1957. They will mature serially, from June of 1960 to June of 1987.

The two issues are to be offered separately.

Rayville FHA Elects Officers

RAYVILLE (Special) — Lane Strahan was elected president of the Rayville Chapter of the Future Farmers of America for 1957-58.

Other officers are Orle Gene Morris, first vice president; Thomas Salsbury, secretary; Jerry Wilson, reporter; Malcolm Evans, treasurer; Buddy Ware, sentinel; Percell Green, second vice president; Delwyn Peters, third vice president; and Alton Branch, student council representative.

The agriculture teacher, J. C. Letlow, will serve as FFA advisor and Charlotte Stodghill will serve as FFA Sweetheart until October.

WEATHER BUREAU FORECAST

Showers and thunderstorms are due over most of the middle Atlantic states, southwestward across the Atlantic states, southwestward across the Ohio and Tennessee valleys into the lower half of the Mississippi valley, thence into eastern Texas. Showers are indicated also for eastern Montana and the north Pacific coastal sections. (AP Wirephoto Map)

ON LABOR CLEAN UP

Senate, House Groups Chairman Pledge Action

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP)—Chairmen of Senate and House committees today promised prompt action on President Eisenhower's call for legislation to wipe out the "abomination" of labor racketeering.

Several members of Congress called for even broader legislation than the President proposed in Augusta, Ga., after conferring with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Senate Rackets Committee agreed with Eisenhower on the need for legislation to give the executive branch authority to look over union welfare and pension funds and make them public.

But McClellan said that "at least one further step is necessary." This step, he said, would be aimed at insuring "free elections and the democratic processes so that rank and file of union members can have and retain control of their union."

Chairman John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) of the Senate Labor subcommittee said he expected to start hearings within a month on the President's proposals. Findings of the racket investigators indicate the need for legislation, he said.

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-N.C.) of the House Labor Committee said his group would meet May 1. He indicated it would take up plans then for considering the President's recommendations.

Besides trying to safeguard union trust funds, the administration indicated it would try to increase protection for workers under the Taft-Hartley labor-management law.

U. S. Business Envisions Steadily Growing Economy

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—American business is betting on a steadily expanding economy in the next four years — ignoring any short-term bobbles along the way.

The bets already planned total 35 to 40 billion dollars a year — and are expected to go higher.

Talk of cutbacks in capital spending is petering out. Industry now expects to spend 12 per cent more this year than last for new plants and equipment.

Business plans to spend sharply more on research and new products. And there is a shift in emphasis from building more plants to spending more for modernization.

These findings are shown today in the annual survey made in March and April by the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.'s Department of Economics.

Covering companies hiring over 40 per cent of all industrial employees in the nation, this survey puts this year's spending plans at almost 41 billion dollars. This would be 3½ billion dollars higher than spending plans tabulated in a survey in January and February by the Department of Commerce and the Securities and Exchange Commission, which held spending would be up 6½ per cent over 1956.

The McGraw-Hill survey went further than the government one and looked into preliminary plans for 1958, 1959 and 1960. Already business is earmarking about as much for each of these three years as it spent in 1956, which the survey puts at 38½ billion (also a higher figure than the government's). The private economists predict that these future plans will be further expanded as the years roll around.

Increased stress on research and new products in this highly competitive era shows up in business plans to boost research spending 20 per cent this year and to continue stepping it up through 1960. By that time manufacturers expect at least 10 per cent of their total sales to be in products not being made in 1956.

One third of the reporting manufacturers plan capital expenditures this year to bring out new products.

While slightly more than half of manufacturers' capital spending this year will be on plant expansion, this will be cut to 47 per cent in the next three years. The longer range plans stress modernization, research and new products.

Research and development will take nearly nine billion dollars of manufacturers' money in 1960.

The manufacturing firms expect an overall gain of 6 per cent this year in unit volume of sales. By 1960 the average gain expected is 26 per cent. Heavy machinery, electrical machinery and transportation equipment firms expect to beat this average—up 11 to 13 per cent this year, and up 30 to 36 per cent by 1960.

Here are some things you'll want to remember about telephone service in Monroe and Sterlington:

- 1 Effective at 1:01 A.M., Sunday, approximately 27,000 telephone numbers will be changed to numbers consisting of an office name, either FAirfax or North and five numerals. In addition, many other numbers are changed due to the changes that normally occur between directory issues.
- 2 Office names are abbreviated in subscriber's listings in the new directory. For example, FAirfax 5-9900 is listed FA 5-9900. NORTH is shown as NO.
- 3 To call a FAirfax or North number, simply dial the first two letters of the office name and then the five numerals, as listed in the directory, for example FA 5-9900.
- 4 When placing a Long Distance call be sure to give the operator the office name and the five numerals when she asks for the number.
- 5 It is highly important that you use the new directory for all calls after 1:01 A.M. Sunday, and dispose of the old book.

ALL MONROE AND STERLINGTON TELEPHONE NUMBERS CHANGE

Here are some things you'll want to remember about telephone service in Monroe and Sterlington:

- 1 Effective at 1:01 A.M., Sunday, approximately 27,000 telephone numbers will be changed to numbers consisting of an office name, either FAirfax or NOrth and five numerals. In addition, many other numbers are changed due to the changes that normally occur between directory issues.
- 2 Office names are abbreviated in subscriber's listings in the new directory. For example, FAirfax 5-9900 is listed FA 5-9900. NOrth is shown as NO.
- 3 To call a FAirfax or NOrth number, simply dial the first two letters of the office name and then the five numerals, as listed in the directory, for example FA 5-9900.
- 4 When placing a Long Distance call be sure to give the operator the office name and the five numerals when she asks for the number.
- 5 It is highly important that you use the new directory for all calls after 1:01 A.M. Sunday, and dispose of the old book.

Radar 'Booby Trap' Tale Has Odd Turns

The story of a Gulfport, Miss., man who allegedly found highway patrolmen hiding a radar speed trap in a U. S. mail box near Hattiesburg and, as a result, almost landed in jail raises a lot of questions for which there seem to be few immediate answers.

John Lee Gainey of Gulfport, regional director of federal clinic housing for 37 Mississippi counties, said he slowed down his car so his wife could take a picture of what he called a "booby trap."

For this indiscretion against the dignity of the highway police, he said, he was arrested and charged with illegal parking, although he had neither parked nor stopped.

When he was taken before a justice of the peace, who fixed his bond at $100, Gainey tried to make a recording of the proceedings by plugging a small tape recorder into a socket in the J. P.'s office. This may have been a little presumptuous on Gainey's part. Anyhow, the J. P. had the cord jerked out, although he did not say why he did not want a recording made.

Among the odd questions arising are these: Why did Gainey think the "booby trap" was improper? Why did the state police become angry? Is a radar speed trap improper or illegal? Did the state police arrest Gainey simply because they were mad? Did they have a right to put the "booby trap" in a U. S. mail box?

No doubt the state police were angry because they thought Gainey was too "nosey." Apparently they charged him with illegal parking because they couldn't think of any other charge. Gainey was too "nosey" for his own good or comfort. These things are all "probables."

One thing, however, is certain. Uncle Sam doesn't want anybody, including state police, fooling around with his mail boxes for any purpose except as a U. S. mail depository. If there was a "booby trap" in the mail box that may have been the reason the state police were angry. They wouldn't want a thing like that known. However, the course they took got them a lot more notoriety than they would have had if they hadn't nabbed Gainey.

Finally, we come down to what may be the meat of the whole thing. That is the right of state police to use the radar in "booby trap" style.

Leaving out the mail box issue, we see no reason that traffic officers should not conceal their radar equipment for the purpose of catching the unwary speeder. Some speeders seem to think officers should let them know they are there with the radar equipment, so the speeder will have a chance to slow down in time.

This attitude probably was developed partly from the fact that in many states, if not all of them, there are requirements that officers' cars be marked or painted so as to be identifiable. The real purpose in this, though, is to let the people know that the state police are officers and not to give the speeder or other offender a chance to escape being caught.

If speeders are to be caught, officers can't afford to give them too much of a sporting chance—that is, an opportunity to slow down in time.

U.S. Proposes New Disarmament Move

Washington has offered to reduce non-nuclear armament 25 per cent if Russia, Britain, France and Canada concur. This opens another door to the intricacies of the disarmament problem.

Russia can claim it has already announced similar or even greater cuts, though no one can be sure without the right of inspection.

The offer, of course, does not embrace nuclear weapons, though they are the basic cause of fear in the world. In making the offer, the United States announces it will reduce total military manpower by 300,000 and suspend the draft law in four more years. That is an attractive tangibility, promising some easement of the armaments burden on taxpayers and giving the youth of the land more assurance in planning their future.

Hard Blows Create Crisis In Argentina

Argentina, in poor fiscal position following the excesses of the Peron regime, has had other hard blows in the past few months.

The Suez Canal fiasco raised oil prices and Argentina has had to pay an additional $100 million for its petroleum imports. And the farm crop disposal activities of the U. S. government, which amount to dumping of surpluses abroad at cheap prices, cuts across Argentina's export markets. The gold reserve of the nation is all but exhausted.

The Peron regime nationalized about everything in sight. These inefficient government operations are a drain on the treasury. They make it impossible to get foreign loans for the rehabilitation and expansion of Argentina's industries. When American loans are obtained, a condition is that industrial equipment be bought at high U. S. prices.

The only answer the present regime has is to cut down and enter a period of austerity. The Argentine people are described as unenthusiastic about such a course. And Peron agents are actively trying to lay the popular basis for recall of the fallen dictator.

Professor Brings Up New Fear To Guide Us

As if we didn't have enough to worry about—what with A-bombs, H-bombs, C-bombs, the IRBM and ICBM—a physicist has come up with another startling discovery.

Dr. Joseph Kaplan of the University of California says that because so much fuel is being burned and creating a gas cloud over the world's atmosphere, the earth's climate is warming perceptibly.

Run-of-the-mill human beings might consider that a boon, but not Dr. Kaplan. He says this means that the ice caps at the North and South Poles will melt and water of the seas will flood most of New York City, downtown San Francisco, most of Florida and sections of many other coastal cities.

Man Who Screens Out Blabbermouths, Subversives, Homosexuals Unpopular

I met a young fellow who does the ought to and then worries for where he heard that Scott McLeod, our new ambassador to Ireland, is such a bad man. Well, it all came out in college. The word is a blabbermouth. If he prefers being the wise guy in a bar or at a cocktail party, he ought to apply for some other job than in the State Department. He could do less harm at the hardware counter of a department store.

"The homosexual, male or female, is always subject to blackmail. So is the married man who chases after other men's wives. This may be some kind of indoor sport but it is no good for the State Department. Such people have to be screened out. The subversive is obviously out of order. Maybe glamorous persons are more susceptible to blackmail than the dull steady type, but the State Department cannot afford to have people about who are susceptible to blackmail."

"Who are these fine men?" I asked.

Silence.

One does not remember names, dates, places. It is only necessary to remember sentences, slogans, stereotypes. This is regarded as education. If the student remembers the professor's phrases, he gets a good mark. In time, he believes them.

I pursued the argument: "Do you know what Scott McLeod's job has been in the State Department?"

"The answer was ambiguous. 'Well,' I said, 'this formal title has been administrator, bureau of security and consular affairs. This has to do with screening personnel to avoid the employment of blabbermouths, homosexuals and subversives. Blabbermouths are bad because they give a drink or two and they talk their heads off. Often they quote their superiors. Blabbermouths are beloved by newspapermen because while they may be wrong in detail they provide tips that can be followed up. ## Dulles Apparently Is Taking Full Control Over U. S. Foreign Policy

The world wide shakeup in U. S. many in spots with which they are may expect to be transferred. The most recent example has been the case of Ambassador Charles E. "Chip" Bohlen, who is being transferred from Moscow to Manila, with Llewellyn E. Thompson who has been ambassador to Austria, succeeding him.

Bohlen has been much more than a mouth piece in Moscow, because he trained especially for diplomatic service in Russia during his entire career. But he knows very little about the Far East, though the Philippine ambassadorship is our most important post there. He understands the Russians and has talked up to them on many occasions, without consulting Dulles. He has been in Moscow since the beginning of the Eisenhower administration, following a succession of admirals and generals who were assigned there because their military understanding supposedly would keep pace with the Soviet armament program.

Language Barrier Blame In Shortage Of Engineers

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Con- on the part of the aircraft firms zressman James Patrick Sinnott and several large sub-contractors. Devereux (R., Md.) was ac- cused by his Democratic opponent, last November of being a do-nothing fellow who'd made only two speeches during the 84th Congress.

"I don't know where he gets that way," Jimmy Devereux told me in a hurt and puzzled tone. "I can only remember making one speech."

As a man of action, Devereux gets important things done and lets the hokum of the spoken and written word fall where it may. When Marine Brig. General Devereux, hero of Wake Island, got back from the wars, I asked him if he'd really said "Send us more Japs." He replied with seriousness: "I don't think so. We already had too many." When he does say something, which is rare, Devereux says it without heroics; and when he has a pet Congressional project it is sure to be, like the battle of Wake Island, something of the long-term good of the country.

For some time now, Devereux, as a member of the House Armed Services committee, has been fighting an obscure but important skirmish to establish a common technical language among the 28 aircraft firms which do business with the Federal Government. At a committee hearing last January, Devereux pointed out to Air Force Secretary Quarles that each aircraft firm had its own semi-secret code for its drafting room manuals. This means that engineers and workers, transferring from one plant to another, often require two months training to make the transition. The same sort of time lag occurs when work is farmed out from a large aircraft plant to a small shop. Devereux asked Secretary Quarles if he knew this to be so.

Quarles: "I happen to be, from my own experience, quite familiar with that problem, General Devereux, and, in fact, the whole related problem of standardization of parts and standardization of designs. It is a very important thing. I must say I am glad to see you pressing for it."

Devereux has kept pressing, but the resistance is considerable. Part of it is a parochial attitude. "Now if this can happen to an engineer of long experience, consider, if you will, the plight of the new engineering graduate. This young man has spent 4 or 5 years in intensive preparation. Upon graduation he is employed by one of our major aircraft factories, where he is given a drawing board and practically tossed out the window in favor of an individualistic means of presentation. I sincerely believe that a standardization of Drafting Room Manuals will drastically cut this waste of engineering talent and, in doing so, will increase our engineering product by as much as 50 per cent."

A 50 per cent increase! Even if this is an optimistic estimate, the promise of a gratifying result is very high. Anything we can do to make more economical use of our home talent and industrial capacity is of major significance. Devereux sees a shortening of the time between the ordering and the production of our new planes. He sees the saving of many millions of dollars in the speeding up of the work.

Substituting Bible Alone For God Not Christianity

Case U-366: Dr. Hal is a dentist, aged 42, whose wife belongs to a church that condemns all other religions as of no consequence.

"She says all other churches are simply anti-Christ," he began, "and not based on the Bible at all."

"Her religion says we must study and fast and prepare for the next coming of Christ."

"And we are to read the Bible diligently so that we will be ready for the New Age."

"Dr. Crane, as a fellow scientist, what do you think of such doctrines?"

Bible Vs. God

Most of your regular readers of this column probably know by now that I am a lifelong Bible Class teacher.

And I had read the Bible from cover to cover 8 times before I even finished High School.

Moreover, I have addressed church conventions and ministerial meetings of a dozen of the major faiths.

So don't jump to hasty conclusions about the following paragraphs or go off half-cocked and deluge your editor with red hot letters of criticism.

The leaders of most of our churches recognize that the Bible is the textbook of ethics by which mankind has slowly evolved from the jungle philosophy of "might makes right" to the new doctrine of the Golden Rule.

But some biased souls lose perspective and confuse "form" with "substance."

In other words, they now worship the Bible instead of God!

The Bible is just an educational tool or instrument by which God tries to lead us toward a higher plane of living so that ultimately we can make earth so heavenly that only a short step will intervene.

The Bible was inspired of God and very consecrated men tried to interpret God to their age and generation, but they saw God through their own eyes.

Top-Heavy Investment In Stocks Not Recommended

You're a businessman and you're "loaded" with stocks which you started buying in 1934. Out of your list of 11 stocks, you have a swell paper profit on four, a moderate profit on three and on the rest — well, on these so far your judgment hasn't turned out so hot.

Today you're worried. You don't like the way things are going in your own business and you think trouble could spread. You don't like the way the stock market has been acting and you're wondering if stocks are heading for a real shake-out. You're just not sleeping well.

At a small dinner party, you meet Winthrop Smith, head partner of a half-billion dollar stock firm with customers from Toledo to Tahiti, and when he mentions the stock market you seize the opportunity to tell him about your position and fears.

You: If you were me, would you hold or sell?

Smith: I wouldn't be in your spot to start with. No one should be 100 per cent invested in the stock market at any time. Even if you're convinced stock prices are going to skyrocket, you shouldn't bet that heavily on your judgment, for any number of unexpected developments could upset your calculations.

I've been in Wall St. 42 years and I can't tell you today whether the stock market is too high or too low, and I don't believe anyone else knows whether it is either.

You: Then I should sell?

Smith: Certainly cut your stock holdings by at least 15 per cent and quite probably more. I would tell your employees that they always should have a basic nestegg in cash and U. S. bonds, and what applies to them applies to you. Get rid of a few of your weakest stocks, and when you get the cash, put it in the bank or U. S. bonds. Sell the weakest stocks on your list regardless of what you paid for them.

You: How do I tell which are the "weakest"? Are these the stocks on which I now have a loss?

Smith: Not necessarily at all. Stocks now selling below your purchase price might be way up four or five years from now. As you will know, since 1933 the stock market have only one spokesman made head foreign capitals, and his name is way, and that's one of the reasons many professional investors are cautious. Ask your broker—the firm you are dealing with is an established, responsible one — for an appraisal of your holdings and suggestions on which to sell. You'll get this advice absolutely free.

You: And I should keep the rest of my stocks?

Smith: Maybe the stock market will be lower next month or next year and maybe not. But over a long period of time, the stock market is going up and you'll benefit from a sound list of securities.

You: What makes you so sure the market's trend is up?

Smith: Because it always has been. And the rise during this century has averaged 3 per cent a year. Incidentally, a recent study of stock prices during the past 86 years by Hugh W. Long & Co., of New Jersey, showed that stock prices have increased not only in nine out of 10 long-term periods of inflation, but also have increased in eight out of 10 prolonged periods of deflation.

You: What about buying mutual funds when I invest again?

Smith: When you buy shares of mutual funds, you do get the advantages of a diversified list of securities, professional management and supervision — which explains the phenomenal growth of mutual funds since 1940. But you pay a commission when you buy and a management fee for these advantages, and since there are now nearly 300 mutual funds you can buy you must shop around for these too. Some funds are conservative, some balanced, some speculative, some have better records than others, some are less expensive than others and so forth.

You: You're really telling me not to worry so much?

Smith: Of course, you can't just buy stocks and put them away. You must check and watch. But if you get your list analyzed, build up to outguess the market's trend from month to month, you'll come out well ahead.

Tomorrow: "You're approaching 65 and retirement..."

The offer, of course, does not embrace nuclear weapons, though they are the basic cause of fear in the world. In making the offer, the United States announces it will reduce total military manpower by 300,000 and suspend the draft law in four more years. That is an attractive tangibility, promising some easement of the armaments burden on taxpayers and giving the youth of the land more assurance in planning their future.

Hard Blows Create Crisis In Argentina

Argentina, in poor fiscal position following the excesses of the Peron regime, has had other hard blows in the past few months.

The Suez Canal fiasco raised oil prices and Argentina has had to pay an additional $100 million for its petroleum imports. And the farm crop disposal activities of the U. S. government, which amount to dumping of surpluses abroad at cheap prices, cuts across Argentina's export markets. The gold reserve of the nation is all but exhausted.

The Peron regime nationalized about everything in sight. These inefficient government operations are a drain on the treasury. They make it impossible to get foreign loans for the rehabilitation and expansion of Argentina's industries. When American loans are obtained, a condition is that industrial equipment be bought at high U. S. prices.

The only answer the present regime has is to cut down and enter a period of austerity. The Argentine people are described as unenthusiastic about such a course. And Peron agents are actively trying to lay the popular basis for recall of the fallen dictator.

Professor Brings Up New Fear To Guide Us

As if we didn't have enough to worry about—what with A-bombs, H-bombs, C-bombs, the IRBM and ICBM—a physicist has come up with another startling discovery.

Dr. Joseph Kaplan of the University of California says that because so much fuel is being burned and creating a gas cloud over the world's atmosphere, the earth's climate is warming perceptibly.

Run-of-the-mill human beings might consider that a boon, but not Dr. Kaplan. He says this means that the ice caps at the North and South Poles will melt and water of the seas will flood most of New York City, downtown San Francisco, most of Florida and sections of many other coastal cities.

he ought to and then worries for weeks whether he has not wrecked his family. A fellow in the code room of an embassy must not be a blabbermouth. If he prefers being the wise guy in a bar or at a cocktail party, he ought to apply for some other job than in the State Department. He could do less harm at the hardware counter of a department store.

"The homosexual, male or female, is always subject to blackmail. So is the married man who chases after other men's wives. This may be some kind of indoor sport but it is no good for the State Department. Such people have to be screened out. The subversive is obviously out of order. Maybe glamorous persons are more susceptible to blackmail than the dull steady type, but the State Department cannot afford to have people about who are susceptible to blackmail."

"Somebody has to do the screening. If it is not one man, it will be another, and the job changes with the times. For instance, when this country was at war with Germany, those who were pro-German were dangerous for the State Department; when we were at war with Japan, anyone who was pro-Japanese became a menace. Now we are in a state of a cold war with Soviet Russia and therefore the pro-Russian and the pro-Communist are a menace. Somebody has to do the job of checking personnel in this sensitive agency and, I suppose, whoever does it will make a lot of personal enemies."

So again, I asked the young man

Dulles Apparently Is Taking Full Control Over U. S. Foreign Policy

The world wide shakeup in U. S. diplomatic representation has been taken here as an indication that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who not long ago was believed to be on the verge of quitting, has convinced President Eisenhower that he must have full control over U. S. foreign policy, and that he will exercise it through men of his own selection.

Having filled the major European posts with large contributors to the last Republican presidential campaign, who follow the tradition of placing social prestige ahead of diplomatic skill, the reshuffle of career men has put many in spots with which they are totally unfamiliar. That tends to limit their initiative, for ambassadorial mistakes lower their diplomatic batting averages so much that they may not expect anything desirable in the way of a new assignment.

Dulles, whose lifelong ambition has been to be Secretary of State, was his grandfather John Foster, during part of the Benjamin Harrison administration, has given repeated evidence that he is directing foreign policy as he thinks it should be run. So when one of our foreign emissaries rises to a point where he seems to be inhibiting a certain independence, he may expect to be transferred.

The most recent example has been the case of Ambassador Charles E. "Chip" Bohlen, who is being transferred from Moscow to Manila with Llewellyn E. Thompson who has been ambassador to Austria, succeeding him.

Bohlen has been much more than a mouth piece in Moscow, because he trained especially for diplomatic service in Russia during his entire career. But he knows very little about the Far East, though the Philippine ambassadorship is our most important post there. He understands the Russians and has talked up to them on many occasions, without consulting Dulles. He has been in Moscow since the beginning of the Eisenhower administration, following a succession of admirals and generals who were assigned there because their military understanding supposedly would keep pace with the Soviet armament program.

The Russians respected Bohlen, according to their own admissions because he understood them, but probably are pleased that a successor who knows Communism chiefly from his Austrian experience is coming in Bohlen's place. He will necessarily rely more upon Dulles' instructions than did Bohlen.

Another appointment demonstrating Dulles' determination to pull the strings is that of William S. Lacey to Poland. Lacey at the beginning of his ambassadorial career was sent to Manila for the purpose of influencing the Philippine election, in which the late Ramon Magsaysay, killed recently in a plane crash, was the American favorite. Magsaysay won and Lacey was rewarded by appointment as ambassador to South Korea, another trouble spot. But the Oriental grapevine told President Syngman Rhee that Lacey might be under instructions to work out a change in the presidency there, and Lacey found himself almost personal non grata in Seoul. He left the post soon for reasons of health, returning to the U. S. for treatment of a stomach disorder.

Now he takes over the touchy Warsaw job, where again Dulles will direct U. S. policy from day to day. Other changes involve Sweden, where John M. Cabot, who has been highly popular with the Swedish government, is being sent to Columbia in South America to be replaced by Francis White, now ambassador to Mexico, who will be replaced in Mexico City by Robert C. Hill, who has been on duty in Washington.

It has been an established custom of numerous foreign countries to keep their ambassadors in Washington so long as they demonstrate their diplomatic ability. This is especially true of the Scandinavian countries and others with stable governments. The pattern now being followed by our State Department corresponds more to that of Soviet Russia which switches its diplomatic representatives about at frequent intervals apparently to keep them close under the thumb of Moscow.

Dulles previously has managed to bring Harold E. Stassen, once a special assistant to the president on disarmament, under his direction. From now on, there seems to be no doubt that the U. S. will have only one spokesman in foreign capitals, and his name is Dulles.

DR. CRANE SAYS

Substituting Bible Alone For God Not Christianity

Case U-366: Dr. Hal is a dentist, aged 42, whose wife belongs to a church that condemns all other religions as of no consequence.

"She says all other churches are simply anti-Christ," he began, "and not based on the Bible at all."

"Her religion says we must study and fast and prepare for the next coming of Christ."

"And we are to read the Bible diligently so that we will be ready for the New Age."

"Dr. Crane, as a fellow scientist, what do you think of such doctrines?"

Bible Vs. God

Most of our regular readers of this column probably know by now that I am a lifelong Bible class teacher.

And I had read the Bible from cover to cover 8 times before I even finished High School.

Moreover, I have addressed church conventions and ministerial meetings of a dozen of the major faiths.

So don't jump to hasty conclusions about the following paragraphs or go off half-cocked and deluge your editor with red hot letters of criticism.

The leaders of most of our churches recognize that the Bible is the textbook of ethics by which mankind has slowly evolved from the jungle philosophy of "might makes right" to the new doctrine of the Golden Rule.

But some biased souls lose perspective and confuse "form" with "substance."

In other words, they now worship the Bible instead of God!

The Bible is just an educational tool or instrument by which God tries to lead us toward a higher plane of living so that ultimately we can make earth so heavenly that only a short step will intervene.

The Bible was inspired of God and very consecrated men tried to interpret God to their age and generation, but they saw God through their own eyes.

SYLVIA PORTER

Top-Heavy Investment In Stocks Not Recommended

You're a businessman and you're "loaded" with stocks which you started buying in 1954. Out of your list of 11 stocks, you have a swell paper profit on four, a moderate profit on three and on the rest — well, on these so far your judgment hasn't turned out so hot.

Today you're worried. You don't like the way things are going in your own business and you think trouble could spread . . . You don't like the way the stock market has been acting and you're wondering if stocks are heading for a real shake . . . You're just not sleeping well.

At a small dinner party, you meet Winthrop Smith, head partner of a half-billion dollar stock firm with customers from Toledo to Tahiti, and when he mentions the stock market you seize the opportunity to tell him about your position and fears.

You: If you were me, would you hold or sell?

Smith: I wouldn't be in your spot to start with. No one should be 100 per cent invested in the stock market at any time. Even if you're convinced stock prices are going to skyrocket, you shouldn't bet that heavily on your judgment, for any number of unexpected developments could upset your calculations.

I've been in Wall St. 42 years and I can't tell you today whether the stock market is too high or too low, and I don't believe anyone else knows whether it is either.

You: Then I should sell?

Smith: Certainly cut your stock holdings by at least 15 per cent and quite probably more. I would tell your employees that they always should have a basic nestegg in cash and U. S. bonds, and what applies to them applies to you. Get rid of a few of your weakest stocks, and when you get the cash, put it in the bank or U. S. bonds. Sell the weakest stocks on your list regardless of what you paid for them.

You: How do I tell which are the "weakest"? Are these the stocks on which I now have a loss?

Smith: Not necessarily at all. Stocks now selling below your purchase price might be way up four or five years from now. As you know, since 1953 the stock market generally hasn't made much headway, and that's one of the reasons many professional investors

To Part No More

WHEN I must say good night to you . . . I cannot help but sigh . . . But I am always happy that . . . It does not mean good-bye . . . It merely means that we must wait . . . Until another day . . . To meet again and think again . . . The words we want to say . . . Our parting is a time to sleep . . . And dream of what may be . . . As we conjure a castle on . . . A hill of memory . . . But I can hardly wait until . . . The dawn is really here . . . That I may whisper once again . . . How much I love you, dear . . . And I can hardly wait until . . . I hold you to my heart . . . And there will not be anything . . . To keep us two apart.

So he reasoned that their misery must have come from what they ate. And the meat course was probably roast pork. So Moses may have logically decided to protect his people by vetoing all hog meat thereafter.

But Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Joseph during the 400 years prior to Moses apparently ate hog meat with no ill effects.

And nowadays, when government meat inspectors weed out any trichinosis infected hog, we realize what Moses was trying to do in the age before microscopes and modern scientific meat testing made pork safe.

If God wanted to indict ALL pork, why didn't he do it for Abraham and not wait 400 years till Moses?

Moses also announced that "eye for an eye and tooth for a tooth" doctrine, which was a great legal milestone in human civilization.

For prior to that limitation of punishment to fit the crime, the strong man completely annihilated his weaker neighbor who even accidentally knocked out just one tooth.

Did God order that "eye for an eye" or was that the thinking of Moses who felt he was interpreting God's wishes?

God is also said to have lost His temper and decided to wipe out the Hebrews after the Golden Calf incident, but Moses is reported to have told God:

"Turn from thy fierce wrath and repent of this evil against thy people." (Exodus 32:12)

Was that simply the statement of Moses or do you think God actually lost his temper?

In reading the Bible you must thus use "horse sense," for the various writers often ascribed things to God which they may sincerely have believed were true of God in their day, but we now may realize they were wrong.

If God is Truth, then God is eternal, so any supposed Divine laws that now we find are definitely outmoded, must not have been God's views, even though attributed to God by Moses or David or Peter or John or St. Paul.

School Board Member Recall Vote Approved

ter J. Pierron, who has since been granted sabbatical leave by the school board.

Ensminger said today the action has been "conceived and promoted and carried through by selfish people, motivated by personal and political animosities, and not concerned with wholesome development of the school system or the public interest in general."

Express Regret

While expressing "sincere regret" that such a situation had "come about," Ensminger said he was "confident of approval of the citizenship of both my personal and official record, and repudiation of people who, without any foundation of fact, would deliberately attempt to smear and besmirch another, and knowingly injure our schools by so doing."

"I have no fear of the people's judgment of me as a man, a citizen, an official, or otherwise," he added. "My record in all respects is open and above board and clear; and with humility, it is a record in which I take a measure of pardonable pride—not false pride, but the pride that comes from having given my best to the job of living and of faithfully endeavoring to serve my fellow-man."

"The people of Ward 1 and of Franklin parish as a whole will not be misled by untrue accusations, nor will they be led astray by false assertions and implications made by persons with selfish interests and motivations; of that, I am confident."

"The people will ascertain the facts as they are, do their own thinking, and act accordingly; and right and fairness and justice will prevail."

Ensminger, a life-long resident here, is in his ninth year as a school board member.

He is manager of the Fisher Body Corporation properties in northeast Louisiana and operates an insurance agency here. In addition to his service on the Franklin parish school board, he is a leader in the Winner First Methodist Church, in the Boy Scout program of the community and area, in the Masonic fraternity and in other community activities.

Dr. Jones said the recall came about because of dissatisfaction of the work some teachers were performing at Winslow High School.

"Ensminger was requested to investigate and take action on the situation, but failed to do so," he said.

"The petition was taken to Baton Rouge to the secretary of state's office Monday afternoon, from there we took it to the state attorney general's office so the legality of the petition could be checked. It was found to be legal and we took it back to the secretary of state's office in compliance with rules where it was okayed and from there to the governor's office."

"Governor Long was absent from his office but it was left with his executive secretary who presented it to him."

Governor Long issued the proclamation for the election within the five days after the petition was presented as required by law.

The recall election, by law, is held the first Tuesday 60 days after the proclamation for a recall election is issued. This allows the residents of the area 30 days to register before the election date. Registration books are closed 30 days prior to an election.

Bigamist Jailed; Admits Six Wives

CHICAGO, April 26 (UP)—Wal-Yemm's harem, he said, if he Yemm, a sometime business- had not over-extended himself and man with a sophisticated air, made arrangements to take on a signed weekly today and admitted ninth bride—going Bluebeard one he has six wives.

But only two of them were "current," he told police. He would have had eight if he hadn't remembered to divorce two of them.

Nobody would have disturbed him.

If Ensminger is "re-elected" the situation will end. If he is defeated, a general election will be held or Governor Long will appoint someone to serve on the board for the two years of his unexpired term.

BATON ROUGE (Special)—Sources close to Gov. Earl Long, who preferred to remain unnamed said here yesterday that a Louisiana state legislator and the director of a state charity hospital had "promoted petitions and influenced the issuance" of a proclamation providing for a school board recall election in Ward 1 of Franklin parish.

The two were identified as Rep. Walter A. Chachere, of Crowley, and Dr. Henry Jones, of Wisner, both in Franklin parish. Dr. Jones has been, upon appointment of Gov. Long, superintendent of the state's E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital at Monroe, since last year.

The usually well informed capital sources said the governor told Chachere and Dr. Jones that he was opposed as a general rule to recall elections, but did not regard the one at issue as either "politically or personally" objectionable.

ITALIAN TO PAINT MAG LONDON, April 26 (UP)—Italian artist Pietro Annigoni, whose portrait of Queen Elizabeth has become famous throughout most of the world, will arrive here next week to complete a portrait of Princess Margaret, it was announced today.

Report Reds Standing By To Aid Syria

Russia also had been approached. American ambassadors have made these points, said press officer Lincoln White: 1. the independence and integrity of Jordan is "vital" as President Eisenhower stated from Augusta Wednesday and that 2. "prudence should be exercised by all."

'No Comment'

At a news conference, White said tersely, "no comment" when asked whether these messages had gone out on instructions from Secretary Dulles. American embassies, he emphasized, are in "daily contact" with foreign governments about the problem.

"In the normal course of their functions with a number of governments," he added, "our position is being made abundantly clear." White expressed the view that "if anything, the situation has improved" in Jordan during the past 24 hours as a result of Hussein's clampdown of martial law and military moves against opponents.

Authorities keeping careful check on Mideast developments said they had "no solid reports whatever" to back up Baghdad and Paris reports that Russian volunteers might intervene.

These unconfirmed rumors pictured Moslems from Russia standing by in Syria, some equipped with Soviet MIG fighters, poised to help Syrian forces who are on Jordan soil in the event of trouble.

Diplomatic officials, basing their view on latest intelligence reports, hinted these reports originated in Egypt and Syria among those seeking to frighten young Hussein at a critical point in his struggle to hold on to control of Jordan.

Kremlin leaders, in their opinion, would be unlikely to risk such intervention, regardless of how much they would like to overturn Hussein. Such a maneuver could lead to a far bigger war, they said, and Soviet leaders know this.

Barring unforeseen developments, Russian leaders continue to act cautiously. It was felt, especially since the American 6th Fleet is steaming towards the eastern Mediterranean.

Reports of Arrests

A military official refused to comment on reports that several senior army officers had been arrested. He said he could state "nothing official" about the reports.

A r a b Legionnaires enforced martial law for the 22-year-old King who twice within the month rose to smash his opponents just when things looked bleakest for him.

Premier Ibrahim Hashem, as successor to moderate Premier Hussein Khalidi who could not control the leftist agitation, ordered Defense Minister Suleiman Tukan to be director of national security.

Streets Deserted

The dusty streets of the five major Jordanian cities were hushed and deserted except for a three hour period at midday.

The curfew was lifted to permit Moslem Sabbath worship in mosques.

Troops and armored units of the Jordanian Arab Legion stood guard in the hot sun. There were no disorders reported.

Hussein himself left his palace atop one of Amman's seven hills to go to the airport and see off his two younger brothers, Princes Mohammed, 15, and Hassan, 10. They returned to school in Switzerland. It was the first time Hussein had been seen outside the palace grounds since he imposed martial law Thursday and crushed the leftist threat to call out street mobs against him and against the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Telegrams Pour In

Hundreds of telegrams pledging fealty poured into the palace, indicating that the mercenary nation was swinging behind the King.

Defense Minister Tukan assured the King the country would remain quiet, despite warnings that the people are "too silent."

American families leaving the Jordanian sector of the divided city of Jerusalem for Israel reported the town "deadly quiet."

Armored cars and tanks of the Arab Legion patrolled the streets. However, local communications remained severely restricted. The U. S. Embassy in Amman was keeping in contact with its Jerusalem consulate, 50 miles to the east, by way of Washington.

have HEIGHT, but they certainly have WEIGHT, and the reference to "doctors report" implies that new-born twins are referred to. In later life, it is not the doctors as much as other authorities who give figures on HEIGHT at WEIGH.

12. POT not LOT. A POT of flowers can help brighten up a room. With a LOT "of flowers" you could "brighten up" your whole home.

19. ROSE not ROBE. ROPE, ROLE and ROPE are vague. "Rather sad" apply fits the "fading" which is inevitable. "To have a beautiful ROBE fade" would surely be much more than just "rather sad"—it could be highly annoying.

20. MAP not MOP. A good MAP is "handy." A MOP is much more than just "handy"—it is an absolute necessity around the house. The clue says "scrambled," hence the answer MAP.

21. RUNNING not RUINING. "When one man" implies that is customary for more than "one man" to do that thing, favoring RUNNING, since the RUINING of countries isn't a usual thing anyway. Also, if he's RUINING it, he presumably must be RUNNING it.

22. ALIVE not ALIKE. Being "very much ALIVE" is a help when it comes to "gelling on well in business." Partners, being ALIKE, "no help, unless they are ALIKE in some advantageous way."

23. BRASS not GRASS. Many will agree that GRASS looks pretty good in its natural state. "When properly cared for," points to BRASS as the better answer.

CLUES DOWN:

1. HAZE not GAZE, MAZE or DAZE. "If persistent" favors HAZE. The word "AZE," meaning "to look steadily or intently," implies persistence anyway. "Some what irritating" hardly fits MAZE or DAZE.

2. LEDGER not LEDGES. "Clerk" calls for LEDGER. Also, it is the office cleaner's job "to dust" LEDGES.

4. BIT not HIT, MIT, or PIT. He may "need a BIT of money in order to live. A man wants, rather than actually 'needs,' to make a HIT, MIT and PIT are not as good.

5. SEA not TEA. TEA is an acknowledged stimulant. The SEA "could be said" to have reviving power.

7. WORD not WOOD. When one consciously "selects" a WORD, it is indeed with a view to its "effect." WOOD with all its uses, may be "selected" without any thought of "effect."

11. LET not LIT. To be "well" LIT, it could only have an appeal at night. One "well" LET (fully rented) will be sure to have an appeal — "let as you buy."

18. RINKS not RING. The plural form suits RINKS better. In boxing, it is simple "the RING."

Ike Opposes '58 Tax Cut, Officer Says

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP)—A high administration official said today that the administration would oppose vigorously any tax cut next year unless the financial condition of the government improved considerably.

The official, a financial expert who declined use of his name, said he saw "absolutely no room for a tax cut of any kind" in the current fiscal year or in fiscal 1958, which begins July 1.

Much Talk

There has been considerable talk by Congress of a general tax cut. Speaker Sam Rayburn has predicted a tax reduction effective next Jan. 1, if government receipts hold up and Congress can trim the President's budget enough.

Some Republican leaders like Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) and House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. also have come out for a tax cut next year.

Has No Basis

But the administration official said flatly that "talk about cutting taxes next year has no basis at all unless Congress and the administration can make drastic cuts in spending" during the 1958 fiscal year.

The administration spokesman noted that the anticipated budget surplus is $1,700,000,000 this fiscal year and $1,800,000,000 for fiscal 1958. He said these margins were too small and "too precarious" to leave room for tax reduction.

DRAFT QUOTA SET

AUSTIN, April 26 (UP)—State draft director Col. Morris S. Schwartz today announced a June quota of 661 Texas.

The June call compares with a quota of 662 for May, 661 for April and 715 for March. It represents Texas' share in a national draft call for 13,000 men.

News Columnist Dies At Age 84

SANTA MONICA, Calif., April 26 (AP)—Dr. Albert Edward Wigam, 84, author, lecturer and newspaper columnist, died at his home here today.

A native of Austin, Ind., Dr. Wigam was a lecturer on the old Chautauqua circuit and author of the syndicated newspaper column "Let's Explore Your Mind."

His books included "Fruit of the Family Tree," "New Deacology of Science" and "Marks of the Educated Man." He received a bachelor of science, master's and doctor of law degrees from Hanover College.

School Board Member Recall Vote Approved

ter J. Pierron, who has since been granted sabbatical sick leave by the school board.

Ensminger said today the action has been "conceived and promoted and carried through by selfish people, motivated by personal and political animosities, and not concerned with wholesome development of the school system or the public interest in general."

Express Regret

While expressing "sincere regret" that such a situation had "come about," Ensminger said he was "confident of approval of the citizenship of both my personal and official record, and repudiation of people who, without any foundation of fact, would deliberately attempt to smear and besmirch another, and knowingly injure our schools by so doing."

"I have no fear of the people's judgment of me as a man, a citizen, an official, or otherwise," he added. "My record in all respects is open and above-board and clear; and with humility, it is a record in which I take a measure of pardonable pride — not false pride, but the pride that comes from having given my best to the job of living and of faithfully endeavoring to serve my fellow-man."

"The people of Ward 1 and of Franklin parish as a whole will not be misled by untrue accusations, nor will they be led astray by false assertions and implications made by persons with selfish interests and motivations; of that, I am confident."

"The people will ascertain the facts as they are, do their own thinking, and act accordingly; and right and fairness and justice will prevail."

Ensminger, a life-long resident here, is in his ninth year as a school board member.

He is manager of the Fisher Body Corporation properties in northeast Louisiana and operates an insurance agency here. In addition to his service on the Franklin parish school board, he is a leader in the Winser First Methodist Church, in the Boy Scout program of the community and area, in the Masonic fraternity and in other community activities.

Dr. Jones said the recall came about because of dissatisfaction of the work some teachers were performing at Wisner High School.

Ensminger was requested to investigate and take action on the situation, but failed to do so.

"The petition was taken to Baton Rouge to the secretary of state's office Monday afternoon, from there we took it to the state attorney general's office so the legality of the petition could be checked. It was found to be legal and we took it back to the secretary of state's office in compliance with rules where it was okayed and from there to the governor's office."

"Governor Long was absent from his office but it was left with his executive secretary who presented it to him."

Governor Long issued the proclamation for the election within the five days after the petition was presented as decreed by law.

The recall election, by law, is held the first Tuesday 60 days after the proclamation for a recall election is issued. This allows the residents of the area 30 days to register before the election date. Registration books are closed 30 days prior to an election.

GOT TOO COMPLICATED

Bigamist Jailed; Admits Six Wives

CHICAGO, April 26 (UP)—Wal Yemm, a sometime business man with a sophisticated air, sighed wearily today and admitted he has six wives.

But only two of them were "current," he told police. And he would have had eight if he hadn't remembered to divorce two of them.

Nobody would have disturbed him.

If Ensminger is "re-elected" the situation will end. If he is defeated, a general election will be held or Governor Long will appoint someone to serve on the board for the two years of his unexpired term.

BATON ROUGE (Special)—Sources close to Gov. Earl Long, who preferred to remain unnamed said here yesterday that a Louisiana state legislator and the director of a state charity hospital had "promoted petitions and influenced the issuance of a proclamation providing for a school board recall election in Ward 1 of Franklin parish."

The two were identified as Rep. Walter A. Chachere, of Crowley, and Dr. Henry Jones, of Wisner, both in Franklin parish. Dr. Jones has been, upon appointment of Gov. Long, superintendent of the state's E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital at Monroe, since late last year.

The usually well informed Capitol sources said the governor told Chachere and Dr. Jones that he was opposed as a general rule to recall elections, but did not regard the one at issue as either "politically or personally" objectionable.

Report Reds Standing By To Aid Syria

Russia also had been approached. American ambassadors have made these points, said press officer Lincoln White: 1. the independence and integrity of Jordan is "vital" as President Eisenhower stated from Augusta Wenesday and that 2. "prudence should be exercised by all."

'No Comment'

At a news conference, White said tersely, "no comment" when asked whether these messages had gone out on instructions from Secretary Dulles. American embassies, he emphasized, are in "daily contact" with foreign governments about the problem.

"In the normal course of their functions with a number of governments," he added, "our position is being made abundantly clear." White expressed the view that, "if anything, the situation has improved" in Jordan during the past 24 hours as a result of Hussein's clampdown of martial law and military moves against opponents.

Authorities keeping careful check on Mideast developments said they had "no solid reports whatever" to back up Baghdad and Paris reports that Russian volunteers might intervene.

These unconfirmed rumors pictured Moslems from Russia standing by in Syria, some equipped with Soviet MIG fighters, poised to help Syrian forces who are on Jordan soil in the event of trouble.

Diplomatic officials, basing their view on latest intelligence reports, hinted these reports originated in Egypt and Syria among those seeking to frighten Hussein at a critical point in his struggle to hold on to control of Jordan.

Kremlin leaders, in their opinion, would be unlikely to risk such intervention, regardless of how much they would like to overturn Hussein. Such a maneuver could lead to a far bigger war, they said, and Soviet leaders know this.

Barring unforeseen developments, Russian leaders continue to act cautiously, it was felt, especially since the American 6th Fleet is steaming towards the eastern Mediterranean.

Jes' Ramblin'

In all lines just as the same is true in nearly all local activities and Jack has covered himself with praise for the unusual progress that his department has made in the past 12 months.

In each and every year, there are three and only three special meetings held by the United Church Women which has an organization in the Twin Cities. This time one of the three days that are to be observed is May 3, which is named "May Fellowship Day."

It will be held in the Memorial Methodist Church, 401 Sherouse Ave.

The feature of the day will be the address by Dr. Marion T. Loftin, member of the Sociology department of the University of Mississippi at Starkville. He will take for his topic "Free Schools in a Free America!" Dr. Loftin is regarded as an exceptionally brilliant speaker.

Plans for this meeting were completed recently at a group meeting in the home of Mrs. J. C. Loftin, 902 College Ave. She is chairman of the Fellowship Day Plans.

Women of all churches are cordially invited and are asked to bring a covered dish lunch.

May is near now and the first few days at least will be in readiness for real music, for after all who does not combine the very name of May with Music? We have already heard of the "Spring Serenade" by pupils of Estelle Sanders on the night of May 6, but on May 2 at 8:15 p.m. the choir of Ouachita Parish High School will be present in song in the auditorium of O.P.H.S. We are sure this will pay all who attend for Ouachita parish has a fine reputation for its music department.

Mrs. George Bennett, 3719 Caddo, on the bank of our bayou back of Northeast State college, explains that the recent finding of miniature live turtles hereabouts, and not in Texas as usual, may be explained by her. She says in 1940 when she returned home here from the "Empire State of the South," she brought ten small turtles back with her.

These she released in the bayou at the edge of Caddo street. Now she wonders, have all recent findings of turtles in Monroe been resultant from these ten "pioneer turtles" of hers? Something to think about she admits!

situation through no fault of his own and committed no act against this government.

"He admitted to me that he wanted to extricate himself from this involvement but circumstances beyond his control prevented any chance."

The story of the spy ring's intrigue was described previously by the Sobles' lawyer as "an amazing tale which borders on the fantastic."

Soble Was Head

The FBI said Soble took over control of the ring once headed by Vassili M. Zublin, former third secretary of the Russian Embassy in Washington, Zublin returned to Russia in 1944 after the FBI branded him a spy.

Ten Soviet Russians in all were the ring's outlet for defense secrets, collected from unnamed conspirators at U.S. defense installations here and abroad.

Defense data was passed to the Russians by the spy ring members at clandestine meetings in smart hotels and restaurants in New York, Paris, Geneva, Lausanne and Vienna.

Jailed Jan. 25

Albam and the Sobles were arrested in New York Jan. 25, in the first major espionage crackdown since Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were seized in 1950. The Rosenbergs later were put to death as atomic spies for Russia.

Albam and the Sobles grew up together in the same Lithuanian town. Albam, nearly bald and bespectacled, is a refugee from a Nazi forced labor camp. He came to this country right after World War II and is not naturalized.

The Sobles fled the advancing Nazi armies and came to this country in 1941, with their son, Lawrence, now 17. Mrs. Soble is a native of Russia.

Reports of Arrests

A military official refused to comment on reports that several senior army officers had been arrested. He said he could state "nothing official" about the reports.

A rab Legionnaires enforced martial law for the 22-year-old King who twice within the month rose to smash his opponents just when things looked bleakest for him.

Premier Ibrahim Hashem, as successor to moderate Premier Hussein Khalidi who could not control the leftist agitation, ordered Defense Minister Suleiman Tukan to be director of national security.

Streets Deserted

The dusty streets of the five major Jordanian cities were hushed and deserted except for a three hour period at midday.

The curfew was lifted to permit Moslem Sabbath worship in mosques.

Troops and armored units of the Jordanian Arab Legion stood guard in the hot sun. There were no disorders reported.

Hussein himself left his palace atop one of Amman's seven hills to go to the airport and see off his two younger brothers, Princes "Ishammed, 15, and Hassan, 10. They returned to school in Switzerland. It was the first time Hussein had been seen outside the palace grounds since he imposed martial law Thursday and crushed the leftist threat to call out street mobs against him and against the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Telegrams Pour In

Hundreds of telegrams pledging fealty poured into the palace, indicating that the mercurial nation was swinging behind the King.

Defense Minister Tukan assured the King the country would remain quiet, despite warnings that the people are "too silent."

American families leaving the Jordanian sector of the divided city of Jerusalem for Israel reported the town "deadly quiet."

Armored cars and tanks of the Arab Legion patrolled the streets. However, local communications remained severely restricted. The U. S. Embassy in Amman was keeping in contact with its Jerusalem consulate, 50 miles to the east, by way of Washington.

Winners Named In Yam Contest

RUSTON, (Special)—Three top winners in the sixth annual northern Louisiana district yam contest for high school students were announced here yesterday by Dean Alice M. Graham of the school of home economics at Louisiana Tech.

Barbara Hollis of Columbia High School ranked first with yam-marshmallow puffs. Emily Ruth Wroten of Tallulah High School was second with a sweet potato surprise entry, and Marie Toney of Holly Ridge High School was third with sweet potato puffs.

Ike Opposes '58 Tax Cut, Officer Says

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP)—

A high administration official said today that the administration would oppose vigorously any tax cut next year unless the financial condition of the government improved considerably.

The official, a financial expert who declined use of his name, said he saw "absolutely no room for a tax cut of any kind" in the current fiscal year or in fiscal 1958, which begins July 1.

Much Talk

There has been considerable talk by Congress of a general tax cut. Speaker Sam Rayburn has predicted a tax reduction effective next Jan. 1, if government receipts hold up and Congress can trim the President's budget enough.

Some Republican leaders like Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) and House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. also have come out for a tax cut next year.

Has No Basis

But the administration official said flatly that "talk about cutting taxes next year has no basis at all unless Congress and the administration can make drastic cuts in spending" during the 1958 fiscal year.

The administration spokesman noted that the anticipated budget surplus is $1,700,000,000 this fiscal year and $1,800,000,000 for fiscal 1958. He said these margins were too small and "too precarious" to leave room for tax reduction.

DRAFT QUOTA SET

AUSTIN, April 26 (UP)—State draft director Col. Morris S. Schwartz today announced a June quota of 661 Texans.

The June call compares with a quota of 662 for May, 661 for April and 715 for March. It represents Texas' share in a national draft call for 13,000 men.

Thousands Flee Floods In Texas

and Fort Worth, and weather forecasters said the flooded sector could expect more storms.

The local flooding in Dallas and Fort Worth, caused by sudden heavy rainfall, ebbed and many families were able to return to sodden homes. But the Trinity River, a stream that could be walked across for most of a century, was as big as the Mississippi.

as wild as the Mississippi.

Families Evacuated

It was rising rapidly to a predicted crest of 42 feet—flood stage is 28 feet—and families were being moved out of the area it was flooding. At least 175 families had been taken to higher ground and to Red Cross shelters by boat.

The tornado at Tyler, the worst reported, also damaged two elementary schools and the gymnasium at Tyler Junior College. It injured six persons, including a pregnant woman and five children. But none was in serious condition.

The tornado struck at 8:45 a.m. when only a few children were at the Bell and Andy Woods elementary schools. The tornadoes brushed by Gregg county airport, in the nearby Longview area and one wrecked two homes.

A tornado east of Gilmer, also in East Texas, demolished a

Church of Christ, tore the side from a school building, ripped up a garage and demolished two homes, while their occupants crouched in a ditch. None was hurt.

In the Kilgore area, tornadoes turned over oil derricks, demolished a home and blew down so many pine trees that a main highway across the state had to be closed.

In West Texas, hail as big as baseballs pelted the countryside. At Sweetwater and at San Angelo, two inches of rain within 30 minutes marooned 300 automobiles.

Part of Greenville, a city in north central Texas, was flooded by four inches of rain in two hours. Arlington, halfway between Dallas and Fort Worth, was isolated for hours by a flood.

Some Refuse Evacuation
Sheriff Bill Decker at Dallas reported that some persons refused to leave homes that floods threatened to wash away. Deputy W.R. Pike got an emergency corps boat to pick up Jim Wyatt, 65, his 33-year-old wife and two teen-aged sons from the Trinity flood.

Wyatt didn't want to get into the boat and Pike almost had to lift him in. The emergency corps also rescued Wyatt's bird dog, but his pet hog, named "Old Rufus," was drowned by the current while swimming toward a hill.

Three men refused to leave homes in northwest Dallas after their families were taken to shelter on high ground.

"I have lived here all my life," Richard Clem said after his wife and three children were taken away. "I have seen the water move in so fast you couldn't get away."

Flood Gates pined
He said he left home during a flood in 1946 and returned to find it looted. Lafayette Jameson had a motor boat tied to his front porch, in case the situation got worse, but refused to leave at once.

Lester Baker said the flood already had trapped some of his livestock, but he didn't want to leave as long as a roof remained on his home to sit on.

The flood gates on Mountain Creek Lake, in southwest Dallas, were opened when the dikes threatened to burst and the water pouring from the flood gates inundated other homes.

Gov. Price Daniel said he will appeal to President Eisenhower to designate the worst-hit sections of Texas as disaster areas, eligible for federal relief, as soon as the sections estimate their damage.

The floods blocked at least 27 roads over the state.

Dam Getting Weak
The Carrollton Dam in Dallas county was reported weakened and Sheriff Decker sent a squad to watch it. The Riverlake country club was surrounded by water and employees took furniture to the top of the clubhouse and covered it with tarpaulins.

The main flooding in Fort Worth was in north and south Richland hills. Over 300 persons already had been evacuated and it was expected that more than 350 homes will be flooded before the water runs down.

Village creek in the southeastern part of Fort Worth threatened to wash out the Southern-Pacific railroad bridge and hundreds of automobiles were stranded.

New Weather Victims
The new weather victims were Howard Lewis, 20, of Hillsboro, who crashed his automobile into a ditch where a bridge washed out; David Wilborn, a Mineral Wells High school senior, who was swept away by Rock Creek, and a Negro, believed to have been Willie Barnes, who was drowned at Seagoville.

Homes in Dallas also were flooded along Barbaree Coad in North-east Dallas, in the Pentagon area of Oak Cliff and in the Arlington Park section of West Dallas. In Dallas county, outside the city, there was flooding in the municipalities of Arlington and Mesquite. The official rainfall at Dallas that produced the flood was 3.38 inches in five - and - a - half hours. The biggest rainfall in the area, 5.25 inches, was reported between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Four Feet Deep
In the Pentagon area, water got two to four feet deep in homes and seven civil defense, fire department and private boats were used to rescue 200 persons.

Dr. W. D. Bradshaw, Fort Worth health director, recommended typhoid vaccinations for persons living in Westover acres and other sections where raw sewage was washed out into streets and yards.

He urged parents to keep their children away from contaminated water, but said there was no reason to expect a wholesale outbreak of disease or panic.

Pregnant Woman Injured
One of the three of the injured in the Tyler tornado was Mrs. Marjorie Matthews, who lived near the Junior College and who was pregnant. Her daughters, Marjorie and Phyllis were injured, but not seriously.

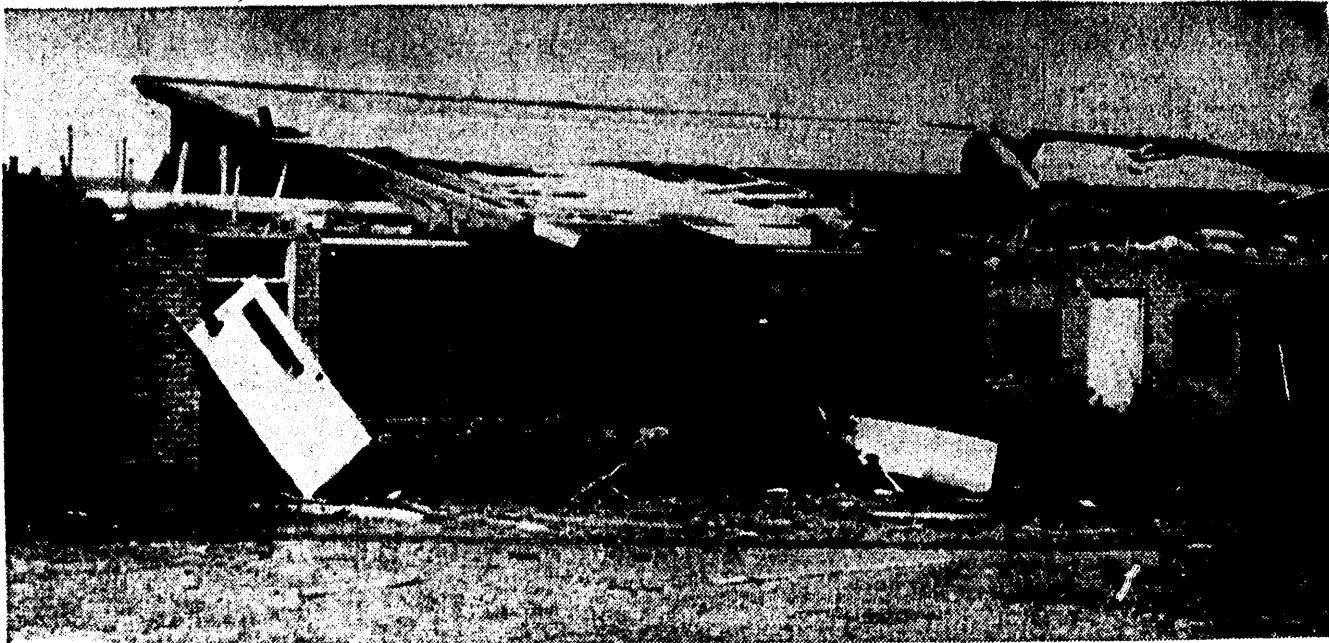

A tornado hit the east mountain area of Upshur county, destroying one home and a garage. Damage was estimated at $10,000, but none was injured.

Another tornado, according to the Department of Public Safety, hit half-a-mile west of the Gregg-Smith county line inside Gregg county, and as it whirled along, damaged timber and fences.

A twister hit three miles from Red Level school in Rusk county, damaging several derricks and storage tanks and a pump house and damaging a house.

Destroyed Houses
A tornado hit Cross Roads community in eastern Rusk county, destroying two houses. Damage was estimated at $4,000.

The tornado, possibly the same one that hit at Cross Roads Community, also hit near the Gregg airport. In addition to destroying two houses, it damaged four others.

SCHOOL HIT BY TORNADO

Several students in the school at the time received injuries, mostly caused by flying glass. Another school and several homes were also damaged by the twister. (AP Wirephoto)

HOMES HIT BY TORNADO

Shown here are some of the homes in the south part of Tyler, Tex., that were heavily damaged by a tornado that struck there yesterday. An estimated 25 homes were destroyed or damaged. Two schools were also hit by the twister. (AP Wirephoto)

RIPPED BY TWISTER

This heavily damaged business building in downtown Holdenville, Okla., shows the fury of a tornado which tore through the business and adjacent sections Thursday night. Some 25 to 30 buildings were hit with damage estimated at $150,000 or more, but there were no injuries. The twister yanked off part of the roof and front of this two-story structure which housed a hardware store and offices. (AP Wirephoto)

MORNING AFTER

This is what the southeast section of Milford, Neb., looked like early Friday morning after a tornado swept through the evening before. An estimated 75 to 100 homes in Milford (pop. 950) were damaged or destroyed. (AP Wirephoto)

ers and total damage was estimated at $20,000.

As night came on, and a hard rain pelted Dallas, workers were let off early from their jobs. Many roads were reported flooded in the Grand Prairie area because of high water.

Two Are Injured In Area Wrecks

Two Negro men were brought to Conway Memorial hospital yesterday after separate highway accidents in the area.

Suffering from head and chest injuries, and a forehead cut which required stitches, was Joe Kirby, 39, of 1100 Arlington street, Ruston who was brought here after a car in which he was riding overturned on highway 80 heading toward Delhi.

A logging-truck accident resulted in a broken leg for Frank Waters, 52, of Tallulah. Waters was riding on the back end of a flat-bodied truck, which was carrying logging equipment and pulling a second truck. The trucks both swerved off the road near Tallulah, throwing Waters off. He was treated at a Delhi clinic and brought to Monroe by ambulance.

SCHOOL FOR PARENTS

LISBON, Portugal, April 26 (UP)—The government has opened a "School for Parents" at the Lisbon Home for Retarded Children. Education Minister Pinto Leite said today.

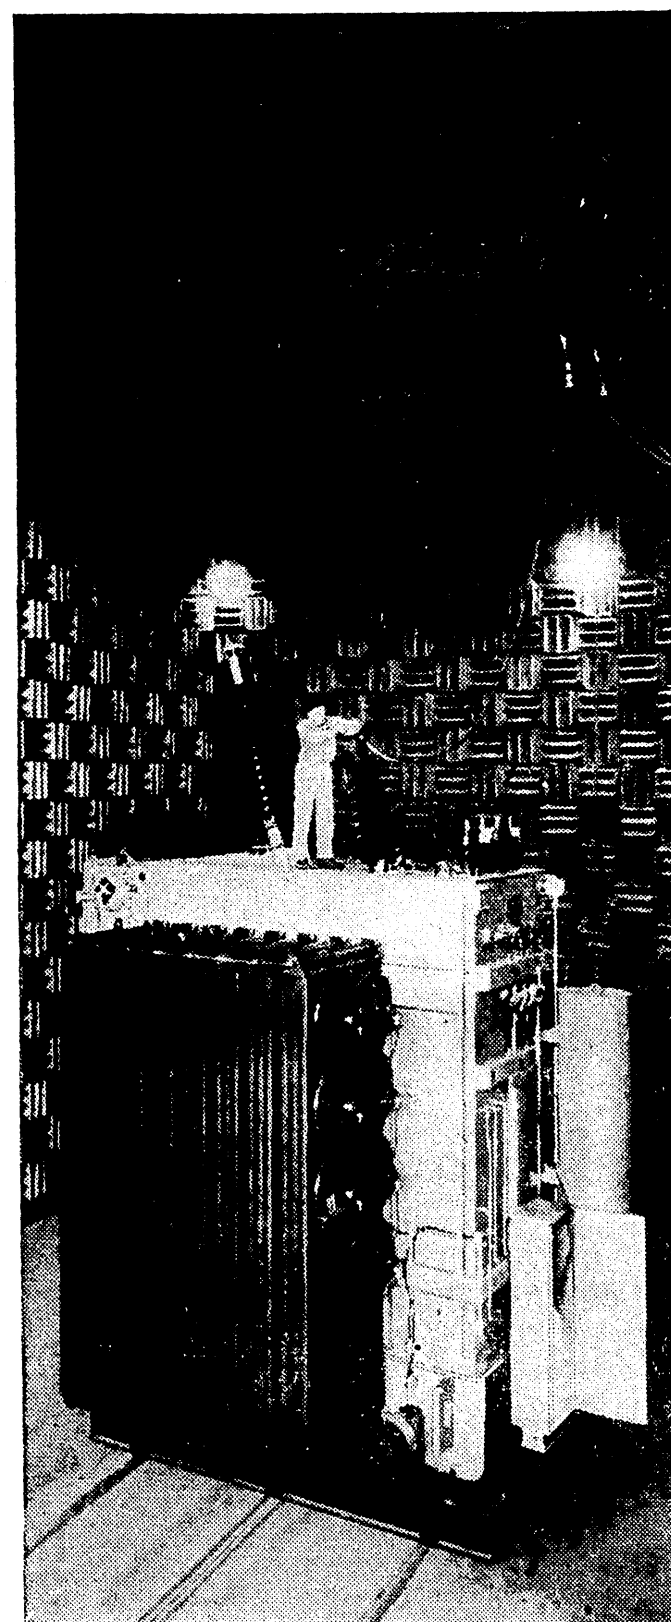

He said many backward children may be restored to mental health if their parents receive the proper training to help them.

FARM DESTRUCTION

It takes a giant transformer to step up electric power, and it takes a giant medium to step up sales power. That medium is the daily newspaper, a giant that lives in every town.

The amount of sales power you get out of an advertising medium depends on its coverage, availability, readership (or listenership or viewership), flexibility and believability.

Ingredients like these can transform an ad campaign into a profit for the retailer, wholesaler, distributor, or manufacturer. And newspapers have these ingredients in abundance.

With newspapers, you can reach just about every prospect for your merchandise. You can gear your advertising to the weather, to readers' special interests, to time, to place — to suit your own convenience. And best of all — newspapers are the action medium.

That's why all advertisers invested over $3,305,000,000* in newspapers last year — more than in TV, radio, magazines and outdoor combined.

Step right up and step up your sales power. Use the daily newspaper.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

Thousands Flee Floods In Texas

and Fort Worth, and weather forecasters said the flooded sector could expect more storms.

The local flooding in Dallas and Fort Worth, caused by sudden, heavy rainfall, ebbed and many families were able to return to sodden homes. But the Trinity River, a stream that could be walked across for most of a seven-year drouth, was as big and as wild as the Mississippi.

Families Evacuated

It was rising rapidly to a predicted crest of 42 feet—flood stage is 28 feet—and families were being moved out of the area it was flooding. At least 175 families had been taken to higher ground and to Red Cross shelters by boat.

The tornado at Tyler, the worst reported, also damaged two elementary schools and the gymnasium at Tyler Junior College. It injured six persons, including a pregnant woman and five children. But none was in serious condition.

The tornado struck at 8:45 a.m. when only a few children were at the Bell and Andy Woods elementary schools. The tornadoes brushed by Gregg county airport, in the nearby Longview area and one wrecked two homes.

Church Demolished

A tornado east of Gilmer, also in East Texas, demolished a

Church of Christ, tore the side from a school building, ripped up a garage and demolished two homes, while their occupants crouched in a ditch. None was hurt.

In the Kilgore area, tornadoes turned over oil derricks, demolished a home and blew down so many pine trees that a main highway across the state had to be closed.

In West Texas, hail as big as baseballs pelted the countryside. At Sweetwater and at San Angelo, two inches of rain within 30 minutes marooned 300 automobiles.

Part of Greenville, a city in north central Texas, was flooded by four inches of rain in two hours. Arlington, halfway between Dallas and Fort Worth, was isolated for hours by a flood.

Some Refuse Evacuation

Sheriff Bill Decker at Dallas reported that some persons refused to leave homes that floods threatened to wash away. Deputy W.R. Pike got an emergency corps boat to pick up Jim Wyatt, 65, his 33-year-old wife and two teen-aged sons from the Trinity flood.

Wyatt didn't want to get into the boat and Pike almost had to lift him in. The emergency corps also rescued Wyatt's bird dog, but his pet hog, named "Old Rufus," was drowned by the current while swimming toward a hill.

Three men refused to leave homes in northwest Dallas after their families were taken to shelter on high ground.

"I have lived here all my life," Richard Clem said after his wife and three children were taken away. "I have seen the water move in so fast you couldn't get away."

"That's why I moved my family. But I'm not going. I can take care of myself."

Flood Gates Pened

He said he left home during a flood in 1946 and returned to find it looted. Lafayette Jameson had a motor boat tied to his front porch, in case the situation got worse, but refused to leave alone.

Lester Baker said the flood already had trapped some of his livestock, but he didn't want to leave as long as a roof remained on his home to sit on.

The flood gates on Mountain Creek Lake, in southwest Dallas, were opened when the dikes threatened to burst and the water pouring from the flood gates inundated other homes.

Gov. Price Daniel said he will appeal to President Eisenhower to designate the worst-hit sections of Texas as disaster areas, eligible for federal relief, as soon as the sections estimate their damage.

The floods blocked at least 27 roads over the state.

Dam Getting Weak

The Carrollton Dam in Dallas county was reported weakening and Sheriff Decker sent a squad to watch it. The Riverlake country club was surrounded by water and employees took furniture to the top of the clubhouse and covered it with tarpaulins.

The main flooding in Fort Worth was in north and south Richland hills. Over 300 persons already had been evacuated and it was expected that more than 350 homes will be flooded before the water runs down.

Village creek in the southeastern part of Fort Worth threatened to wash out the Southern-Pacific railroad bridge and hundreds of automobiles were stranded.

New Weather Victims

The new weather victims were Howard Lewis, 20, of Hillsboro, who crashed his automobile into a ditch where a bridge washed out; David Wilborn, a Mineral Wells High school senior, who was swept away by Rock Creek, and a Negro, believed to have been Willie Barnes, who was drowned at Seagoville.

Homes in Dallas also were flooded along Barbaree Coad in Northeast Dallas, in the Pentagon area of Oak Cliff and in the Arlington Park section of West Dallas. In Dallas county, but outside the city, there was flooding in the municipalities of Arlington and Mesquite.

The official rainfall at Dallas that produced the flood was 3.38 inches in five - and - a - half hours. The biggest rainfall in the area, 5.25 inches, was reported between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Four Feet Deep

In the Pentagon area, water got two to four feet deep in homes and seven civil defense, fire department and private boats were used to rescue 200 persons.

Dr. W. D. Bradshaw, Fort Worth health director, recommended typhoid vaccinations for persons living in Westover acres and other sections where raw sewage was washed out into streets and yards.

He urged parents to keep their children away from contaminated water, but said there was no reason to expect a wholesale outbreak of disease or panic.

Pregnant Woman Injured

One of the three of the injured in the Tyler tornado was Mrs. Marjorie Matthews, who lived near the Junior College and who was pregnant. Her daughters, Marjorie and Phyllis were injured, but not seriously.

A tornado hit the east mountain area of Upshur county, destroying one home and a garage. Damage was estimated at $10,000, but none was injured.

Another tornado, according to the Department of Public Safety, hit half-a-mile west of the Gregg-Smith county line inside Gregg county, and as it whirled along, damaged timber and fences.

A twister hit three miles from Red Level school in Rusk county, damaging "several derricks and storage tanks and a pump house and damaging a house."

Destroyed Houses

A tornado hit Cross Roads community in eastern Rusk county, destroying two houses. Damage was estimated at $4,000.

The tornado, possibly the same one that hit at Cross Roads Community, also hit near the Gregg airport. In addition to destroying two houses, it damaged four

RIPPED BY TWISTER

This heavily damaged business building in downtown Holdenville, Okla., shows the fury of a tornado which tore through the business and adjacent sections Thursday night. Some 25 to 30 buildings were hit with damage estimated at $150,000 or more, but there were no injuries. The twister yanked off part of the roof and front of this two-story structure which housed a hardware store and offices. (AP Wirephoto)

ers and total damage was estimated at $20,000.

As night came on, and a hard rain pelted Dallas, workers were let off early from their jobs. Many roads were reported flooded in the Grand Prairie area because of high water.

Two Are Injured In Area Wrecks

Two Negro men were brought to Conway Memorial hospital yesterday after separate highway accidents in the area.

Suffering from head and chest injuries, and a forehead cut which required stitches, was Joe Kirby, 39, of 1100 Arlington street, Ruston who was brought here after a car in which he was riding overturned on highway 80 heading toward Delhi.

A logging-truck accident resulted in a broken leg for Frank Waters, 52, of Tallulah. Waters was riding on the back end of a flat-bodied truck, which was carrying logging equipment and pulling a second truck. The trucks both swerved off the road near Tallulah, throwing Waters off. He was treated at a Delhi clinic and brought to Monroe by ambulance.

SCHOOL FOR PARENTS

LISBON, Portugal, April 26 (UP)—The government has opened a "School for Parents" at the Lisbon Home for Retarded Children, Education Minister Pinto Leite said today.

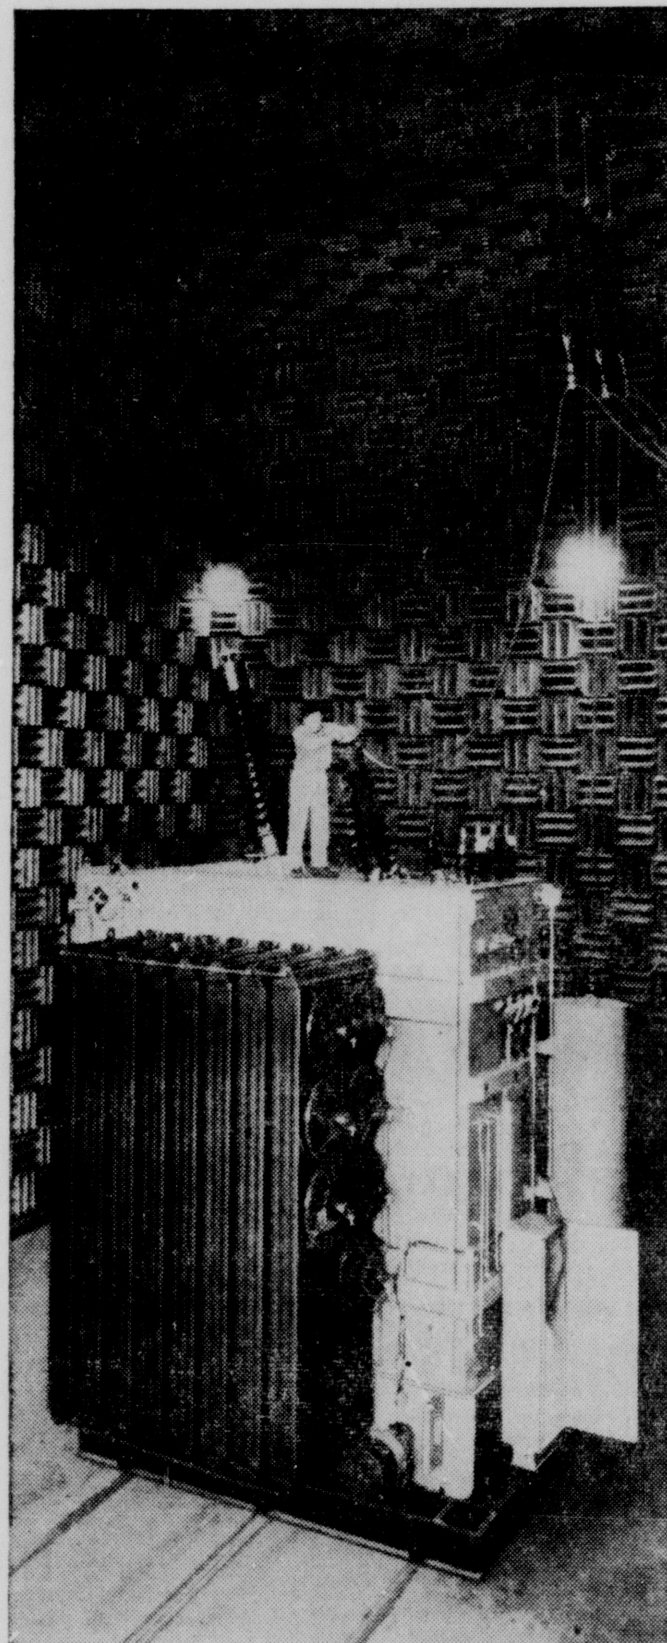

He said many backward children may be restored to mental health if their parents receive the proper training to help them.

FARM DESTRUCTION

This farm house 2 miles north of Friend, Nebr., was completely torn from its foundation and up ended by the tornado which swept through Thursday evening about dusk. The family stands by the foundation surveying the damage. (AP Wirephoto)

It takes a giant transformer to step up electric power, and it takes a giant medium to step up sales power. That medium is the daily newspaper, a giant that lives in every town.

The amount of sales power you get out of an advertising medium depends on its coverage, availability, readership (or listenership or viewership), flexibility and believability.

Ingredients like these can transform an ad campaign into a profit for the retailer, wholesaler, distributor, or manufacturer. And newspapers have these ingredients in abundance.

With newspapers, you can reach just about every prospect for your merchandise. You can gear your advertising to the weather, to readers' special interests, to time, to place — to suit your own convenience. And best of all — newspapers are the action medium.

That's why all advertisers invested over $3,305,000,000* in newspapers last year — more than in TV, radio, magazines and outdoor combined.

Step right up and step up your sales power. Use the daily newspaper.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

NORTH, SOUTH FINAL

Robbins To Battle Campbell For Title

PINEHURST, N.C., April 26 (AP)—Hillman Robbins Jr., the defending champion in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament, and Bill Campbell, the Walker Cup captain from Huntington, W.Va., gained the final today by using accurate putts and approaches to defeat their semifinal opponents.

Robbins and Campbell will meet Saturday in the 36-hole final.

Robbins, the medalist, has played fine golf all week on Pinehurst's 7,000-yard No. 2 course and was not again today as he ousted Dr. Bud Taylor of Pomona, Calif., 4 and 3. Campbell prevented a replay of last year's Robbins-William Hyndman final when he scored a 3 and 2 victory over Hyndman in the other semifinal.

Robbins defeated Hyndman of Philadelphia, 1-up, in the 1956 final.

Robbins led all the way against

Taylor. The lanky Air Force lieutenant boosted his lead back to 4-up when he put an iron shot green and won it with a four while Taylor chipped poorly and two-putted. It was all over when they played the 15th.

'Spike' Quits As Executive With Bengals

DETROIT, April 26 (AP)—Walter O. (Spike) Briggs quit today as executive vice president, general manager and a director of the Detroit Baseball Co., ending a 37-year era in the history of the American League Tigers.

A front office squabble resulted in his resignation. And for the first time since his late father, Walter O. Briggs Sr., bought into the club in 1920 there is no Briggs in the management. No successor was named.

Only yesterday Spike, 45, was quoted as saying new owners who acquired the Tigers from his father's estate for $15 million dollars last summer "aren't going to give me any trouble—I'll walk out first."

When it was published, Briggs denied the quote.

But today he took his walk. It followed by a week the resignation of Fred Knorr, who had headed an 118-member syndicate of new owners, as president. Knorr said pressure of his radio and television business required more time, but sports writers attached more significance than that to it.

Some reported disagreement on policy had developed. This never was confirmed.

Herold (Muddy) Ruel announced a couple of weeks ago he was going on a year's leave of absence as assistant to the president. He had been general manager before the new owners took over and reportedly was dissatisfied with "doing business" under the new setup.

Harvey Hansen, 61, Detroit lumberman, was chosen to succeed Knorr. Newspaper reports said personnel director John McHale had been made responsible for player deals for the Tigers, who have won two of eight games.

Hansen denied it.

"I'm going to have to straighten him (Hansen) out on the chain of command around here," Detroit sports columnist Doc Green quoted Briggs as saying yesterday.

"This fellow is going around me so I may have to take him in hand," Briggs also denied this.

Briggs handed his "Gentlemen, please accept" resignation to Hansen in the presence of chairman John Fetzer today, and reported at a news conference which they attended. "They accepted it," he said.

Later, speaking haltingly and with obvious emotion, Briggs was near tears as he recalled joining the Tigers 21 years ago last March as secretary and assistant treasurer. That was in 1936, a year after his rich, manufacturer father became president and sole owner.

Asked if Green's column had anything to do with his resignation, Briggs said it "probably brought it to a head."

He said Fetzer and Hansen appeared "very unhappy with it." Fetzer expressed concern a few hours before the news conference that public airing of front office squabbling might be affecting the Tigers' performances afield. He said reports "certainly can't be helping and probably are hurting the team."

Hansen predicted a new general manager likely would be named by "some time next week." He said he and Fetzer expected to "clarify the situation quickly" and call other directors on their decision.

In the meantime, Hansen said that as chief administrative officer he had authority to pass on any operational decisions.

CARDS SIGN OLSZEWSKI CHICAGO, April 26 (UP)—The Chicago Cardinals have signed fullback Johnny Olszewski for the 1957 season, managing director Walter Wolfner announced today. It will be Olszewski's fifth year with the team.

By LEMMIE HIGHTOWER (World Staff Sports Writer) RUSTON, La., April 26 (Special)—Bases-empty home runs, by Rocky Nelson and Jack Collins combined with Bobby Gouthiere's three-run relief pitching edged the Fair Park Indians past West Monroe's hard Rebels in a 6-5 battle here today for the District 1-AA championship.

Played under threatening skies at the Louisiana Tech diamond, the seven-inning duel saw four Rebels pitchers parade across the mound in an attempt to halt an eight-bombardment by the Shreveport Redmen.

Nelson sent his round-tripper sailing over the 310-foot left field fence in the third with Collins following with an almost identical salvo to open the lower fifth. Nelson's rap came off starter Ronnie Gallien while Gaillard Webb, the third Confederate hurler of the afternoon, tossed the one Collins liked.

The Rebels, given the role of visitors, grabbed a 3-0 advantage in the first after two were out but couldn't hold on as the Indians sent players into scoring position in every inning. However, a never-say-die comeback effort in the sixth produced a pair of tallies for the Ouachita parish crew after they trailed, 6-3.

POTT TIES FOR 2ND

Casper Swells Derby Lead

By JOHN G. DIETRICH

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 26 (UP)—Billy Casper Jr., who said he was "feeling fuzzy" from taking cold pills, was sharp enough today to shoot a par 71 that gave him a 54-hole total of 207 and a two-stroke lead in the $30,000 Kentucky Derby Open Golf Tournament.

Thomson and Fleck each had one-over-par 72's today, the third consecutive day they have turned in identical scores. But, however, shares the day's scoring honors with Bo Winger of Odessa, Tex., as each erred a 67.

Casper, a 25-year-old ex-sailor who has been fighting a severe head cold throughout the tournament, finished the front nine today one under par, but showed brief signs of falling apart when he began the back nine with two straight bogies.

Casper and the three contenders tied for second were the only golfers in the field who had bettered par over the first three rounds. Winger, with his sparkling round today, and Art Wall Jr. of Pocomo Manor, Pa., finished the day's play six strokes off the pace and tied for fifth at even par 213.

Still in contention but seven strokes back of Casper at 214 were Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., Bob Harris of Winnetka, Ill., and Howie Johnson of Houston, Tex.

Only 11 of today's 99 starters managed to conquer Seneca golf course's firing legrain and a gusty wind that sent shots astray.

George Bayer, the pro circuit's longest hitter, provided a mild sensation by carding a nightmare "7" strokes on the 17th hole. Bayer, who had begun the day among the contenders, had just taken a double bogey five on the previous hole and was finishing out the round in obvious disgust.

The tournament will recess for a day Saturday with the golfers attending the opening of racing at Churchill Downs. The 18-hole final round will be played Sunday.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 26 (UP)—Lester Jenkins, who had lost 51 holes in the Kentucky Derby Open Golf Tournament, tied for 11th place today.

Bill Casper Jr. finished 11th, 10 strokes back of Jenkins. Peter Thomson, Jack Fleck, and Art Wall Jr. tied for 12th, 11 strokes back of Jenkins.

PIRATES WIN, 7-1

Bucs Blast Bums Out Of 1st Place

PITTSBURGH, April 26 (AP)—Righthander Bob Purkey scattered nine hits tonight in pitching the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 7-1 victory over Brooklyn, knocking the Dodgers out of first place. Frank Thomas, playing first base for the benched Dale Long, kavord southpaw pitcher Johnny Podres with a two-run homer in the sixth inning.

The defeat dropped the Dodgers a full game back of the Braves who clubbed Cincinnati 9-2. Duke Snider accounted for the only Dodger run with a homer in the eighth inning. It was his third of the campaign.

The victory snapped a four-game losing streak for the Pirates who were greeted by a crowd of 26,918 as they opened a 16-game home stand.

Purkey, who last Sunday pitched a one-hit 7-inning relief stint against the Dodgers to pick up his first victory of the year, gave up a hit in every inning except the ninth. But he was almost invincible when the Dodgers had men on base.

Box score: 000 000 010-1 9 2 Pittsburgh 100 202 208-7 13 0 Podres, Roebuck (6), Bessant (7), and Campanella; Purkey and Foiles, L.-Podres, Home Run; Brooklyn, Snider, Pittsburgh, Thomas.

Bosox Whip Yanks On Piersall Homer

3-Run Wallop Clinches 6-2 Hose Triumph

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Jim Piersall's three-run homer and Jackie Jensen's two-run double gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-2 victory over the New York Yankees today despite home runs by Enos Slaughter and Gil McDougald.

Ted Williams, who has been setting a torrid spring pace, went hitless in four official trips, walking once. His batting average dropped 50 points to .303. It was the first game in which Williams failed to hit safely this season.

Boston got to Tom Sturdivant for a run in the second on Dick Gernert's double and Gene Mauch's single to right. The Yanks came right back to tie in their half of the second when Slaughter, who will be 41 tomorrow, hit his first home run of the year into the upper deck in right field.

A damaging error by Jerry Coleman, who let Slaughter's grounder skip between his legs, set up the two-run Red Sox point in the third. After Frank Malzone singled, Sturdivant decided to retire Billy Klaus and Williams. Gernert then walked and Jensen doubled to left, scoring Slaughter and Malzone.

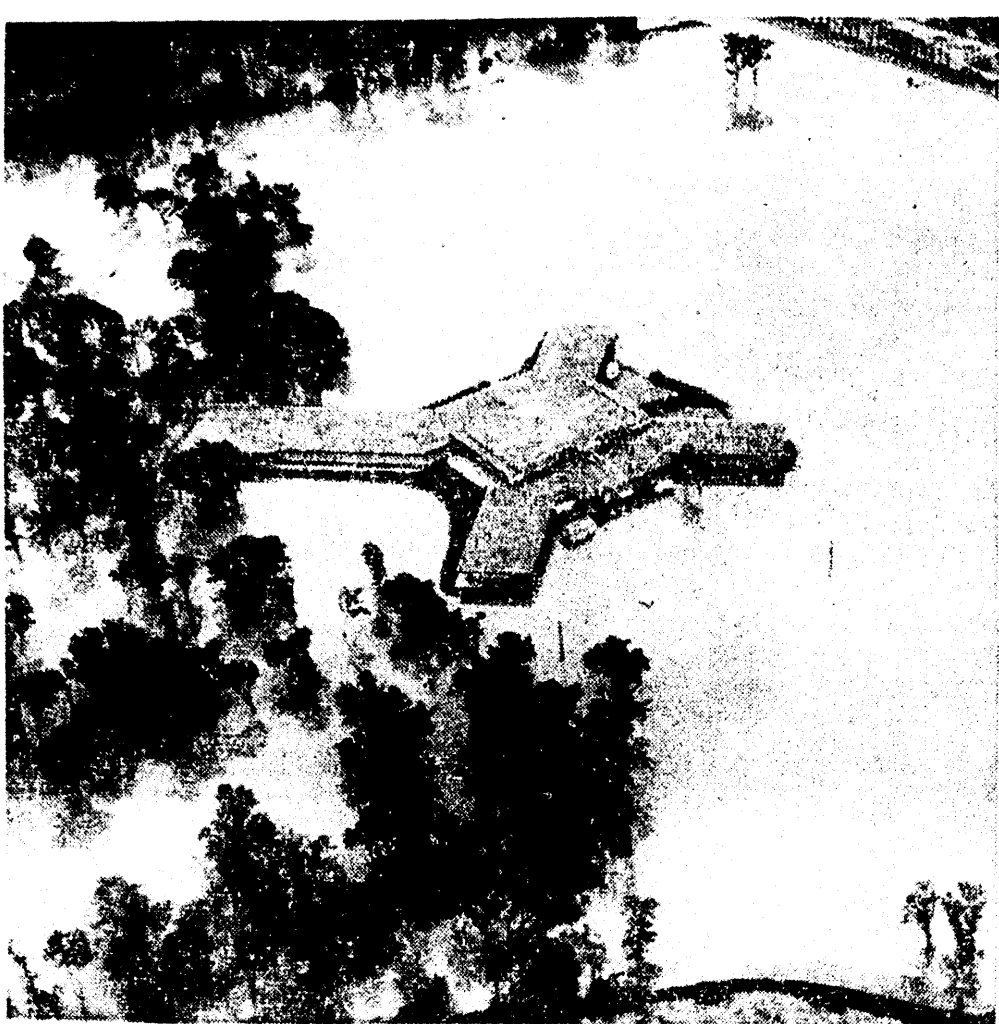

McDougald's leadoff homer in the fourth narrowed the gap to 5-2 but the clincher was Piersall's smash into the lower left field seats after Klaus and Williams were walked by relief man Tommy Byrne in the seventh.

The only Yank hit after McDougald's homer was a bunt single by Bill Skowron in the eighth. It was the second straight victory, both over the Yanks, for Slaughter, 24-year-old son of George Slaughter of the Hall of Fame. Both were complete games. The defeat was Sturdivant's first.

Mickey Mantle made 10 putouts in center field, only one short of the American League record held jointly by five men.

Metz Grabs Lead At Lake Charles

LAKE CHARLES, La., April 26 (AP)—Dick Metz, 40-year-old, took a two-stroke lead at the annual $5,000 Lake Charles Invitational golf tournament today.

Metz carded a 35-24-89 for a six-under-par 36-hole total of 133 over the 6,355-yard Lake Charles Country Club par 72 course.

Defending champion Buster Cupit of Fort Smith, Ark., the first round leader, and Charlie Harper of Columbus, Ga., were tied for second at 140. Cupit, who had an opening round of 67, slumped to 73 while Harper led the best round of the day, a four-under-par 68, to add to yesterday's 72.

Gray Little, the host pro, Everett Allenman of Natchez, Miss., and O. A. Whitton of Shreveport, amateur, were tied at 143.

RIVERS BOWS OUT

McGonagill Hurdles Pair

NEW ORLEANS, April 26 (AP)—Bird, a 20-year-old Centenary up. Defending champion Jimmy McGonagill hurdled two opponents today in his quest for a ninth title in the Louisiana State Amateur golf tournament.

The Shreveport champion eliminated Jack Rivers of Monroe 2 and 1 in the first round morning match and then defeated George Degan of New Orleans by the same score.

Arthur Bush, 19-year-old medalist from Shreveport, bowed out after beating 14-year-old Todd Lusk, senior Junior High School student, 6 and 5. John Bird, also of Shreveport, defeated Bush 1 up in 20 after trimming Harry Neese of New Orleans 1 up.

In the quarterfinal round tomorrow, McGonagill will meet Luca Barbato of Lafayette. Barbato defeated two local colts, W. L. Ferguson 4 and 2 and Russ Wood 6 and 5.

In the championship match of the boys' singles, Neville's Bob Mosley defeated Fair Park's Jim Dowden, 6-4, 6-2 for the title. Mosley got to the finals by upsetting Jerry Joett, Byrd, 6-4, 6-2, and Scott Weatherly of Ruston, 6-4, 6-2. Dowden was the winner over Ken Wildbur, Bossier, 6-4, 6-4.

Margaret Brady, Neville, took the girls' singles title with a 25-60, 9-7 victory over Mary Small. Byrd. The champion also defeated Ardyth Ellis, Fair Park, 6-1, 6-0, and Robert Booth, Bossier, 6-3, 6-4. Mary Small won 6-0, 6-0 from Rosalyn Thomas, Mangham, who in first round play had won over Mary Fowler, Ruston, 6-2, 6-0.

Byrd's Arthur Herold and Frances Scott teamed up to win the mixed doubles. In the final contest, they upended Nat Troy and Carolyn Brady, Neville, 6-3, 6-3. Neville reached the finals of the mixed doubles with a 6-2, 6-3 win over Fair Park's Thuy Butcher and Ardyth Ellis. Byrd got into the championship contest with a 6-4, 6-1 win over Bossier's Warren Hosburn and Fay Landry. In first round play, Bossier defeated Ruston's team, composed of James Green and Rayes Reese, 6-4, 6-2.

Neville's Bob Mosley and Carl Aron took a hard fought, 4-6, 6-3, 6-0, battle with Byrd's Jerry Jewett and Arthur Herold in the finals of the boys' doubles. Neville carried off the victory by a 6-4, 6-1 win over Byrd's team, composed of James Green and Rayes Reese, 6-4, 6-2.

Winner of the girls' doubles was Byrd over Neville, 6-3, 6-1. The Byrd team was composed of Mary Small and Frances Scott. Neville's team was made up of Margaret Brady and King Trousdale. Byrd turned back Ruston in first round play of the girls' doubles while Neville won over Bossier.

Oerter Marks Discus Record At Des Moines

By BOB KLAVERKAMP
DES MOINES, Iowa, April 26 (UP)—Olympic champion Al Oerter of Kansas shattered the Drake Relays discus mark today, but soft and muddy footing protected a handful of track marks considered in danger.

Ira Murchison of Western Michigan turned in the only sparkling track performance as he dashed to .99.5 clocking in the 100-yard dash preliminaries. It was only one tenth of a second behind the Drake record set last year by Dave Sime of Duke and only two tenths of a second off the world mark.

Oerter set the only record of the day when he hurled the discus 177 feet, 10 inches, eclipsing the old mark of 172 feet, 11 inches, set by Carl Beren of Georgia Tech in 1955.

The win gave Oerter, who won the Olympic title with 184 feet, 11 inches, his second sweep of the discus in the Texas, Kansas and Drake relays.

Jim Gamble of Prairie View State in Texas won the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet, four inches. Jesse Owens of Ohio State still holds this record with his jump of 26 feet, one and three quarter inches, set back in 1935.

Western Michigan won the distance medley relay. Howard Payne finished second and Miami of Ohio was third.

Manfield piled up 104 1-6 points in 1-A action. Farmerville came in second with 78 2-6. LaSalle was next with 64 5-6, and Winnfield 41 4-6.

In taking district 2-AA honors, Ruston took first in eight of 17 events. The Bearcats won the 100-yard dash, 120 high hurdles, 440-yard relay, 440-yard dash, mile relay and the Hop-Step-Jump.

Manfield was the winner in 14 of 17 events. In winning the 1-A title, Manfield came in first in the broad jump, shot, discus, 120 high hurdles, 100-yard dash.

Negroes Urged To Claim Ballot In Mississippi

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 26 (UP)—The Regional Council of Negro Leadership today suggested Mississippi Negroes could assume the place they seek in society by voting and raising their living and moral standards.

The sixth annual council, whose theme was "Negroes Voting in 62 Counties," was divided into a morning panel session and an afternoon general session. During the morning session, two ministers old some 500 delegates of the minister's role in the present transition.

The Rev. John LaBaue of Round Bayou said:

"The minister's job is to prepare his people to measure up to their responsibilities. Too many of our people are running away from their responsibilities of citizenship and Christianity."

"Becoming conscious of our Christian and American duties and responsibilities is far more effective than rattle-raising."

The Rev. E. P. Williams of Greenville said: "Perhaps the most effective way in which we can refute political ideologies which are not offensive to us is at the ballot box."

He suggested clinics be set up in churches throughout the state to teach Negroes how to register and vote and he urged all Negroes to take advantage of educational opportunities available to them.

The council planned to present a man of the year award to Dr. R. Otis, former president of Alcorn A&M (Negro) College.

Speakers at the afternoon session included Rep. Conrad Davis (D-Miss.); Dr. Roland Smith, head of the Inter-Faith Fellowship of Greater Little Rock, Ark.; and James Gilliam, grand master of the M. W. Stringer Masonic lodge.

Russia Hurls Accusations At Fleet Moves

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 26 (UP)—Russia today accused the United States of attempting to "show the fist" to the Middle East by sending the Sixth Fleet into the Eastern Mediterranean.

Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev attacked the Eisenhower Doctrine in the United Nations Security Council.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge answered Sobolev's allegations with a declaration that "there is nothing in the Eisenhower Doctrine which need bother anyone who does not contemplate violent deeds."

"If he (the Soviet delegate) did not harbor dreams of domination and of subjugation of suffering peoples, similar to the monstrous Soviet subversion of Hungary of tragic memory, he would not be bothered by these American undertakings," Lodge said.

As for sending the Sixth Fleet to intervene in the Jordanian situation—as Sobolev had charged—Lodge said:

"The Sixth Fleet is in international waters. It is on the high seas where it has every right to be."

Swiss Give Jail Term To AP Newsman

BERN, Switzerland, April 26 (UP)—Michael Goldsmith, correspondent in Geneva for The Associated Press, went to jail tonight for a 24-hour period after he declined to disclose the source of information he had obtained in a spy case.

Hans Walder, federal examining magistrate, imposed the sentence summarily, holding Goldsmith in contempt of court.

This is the background:

In a news story March 20 Goldsmith reported that a Swiss police official was under investigation on suspicion of passing to French agents certain information obtained by recording telephone conversations involving the Egyptian Embassy. The story said Egyptian officials became suspicious late November. This was around the time of the French-British invasion of Egypt.

On March 23 Atty. Gen. Rene Dubois shot himself to death in his home. He had become involved in the espionage case.

Magistrate Walder is in charge of the government inquiry into Dubois's suicide. He summoned Goldsmith to question him as to where he got information reported in the March 20 news story.

Goldsmith refused to divulge this, saying:

"It is not any lack of good will which leads me to refuse to testify, nor do I wish to favor or protect anyone who might be involved in this investigation. I am concerned with the basic question of press freedom, which can only exist when a journalist has the right to conceal his sources of information."

Walder announced there was no appeal against the 24-hour sentence, and officials said the report may be subject to further prosecution if he maintains his refusal to give the information sought.

The British Embassy lodged a protest with the Swiss Foreign Office, Goldsmith is a British subject.

The International Press Institute at its headquarters in Zurich issued a statement saying it deplored the action against Goldsmith.

"It is basic to freedom of information that correspondents, news agencies and newspapers report facts without fear of reprisals or coercion to reveal their sources," the statement said.

The International Press Institute, representing 867 editors, claims as a basic principle the defense of press freedom all over the world.

State Vote Law Is Covered By Two New Books

BATON ROUGE, April 26 (UP)—Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr. today announced publication of two booklets covering Louisiana's primary and election laws.

He said the booklets include changes made by the 1956 Legislature.

One change in the general election law, he said, permits payment to boards of supervisors of election when they hold hearings on appeals involving the rights of voters to register.

Martin, Louisiana's chief election official, listed these important changes in the primary election law:

1. Changing the date of the first primary in the governor's race from the third Tuesday in January to the first Saturday in December.
2. The second gubernatorial primary was changed from five weeks to three weeks after the first primary, in event the governor is nominated in the first primary and primaries are held for other offices than governor.
3. Candidates must submit names of five commissioners and watchers at precincts 10 days before the second primary instead of the previous 21 days.
4. Party committees now must choose commissioners and watchers only three days before the second primary, instead of 14 days.

Martin said copies of the election law booklets may be obtained by writing the secretary of state's office here.

20 Tech Girls To Take Part In Installation

RUSTON, (Special) —Twenty freshmen girls of Louisiana Tech have been selected to participate in the installation of new Women's League officers at the college on May 14. They are as follows:

Jackie Batton, Minden; Carolyn Boyce, Monroe; Sharon Bradbury, Maplewood; Connie DeBoe, Vicksburg, Miss.; Betty Ruth Evans, Bastrop; Carolyn Howard, Baton Rouge; Bobbie Johnson, Truxton; Ann Jones, Crosslet, Ark.; Anne Oakes, Shreveport; Barbara Sandifer, Vidalia; Ann Sentell, Hodge; Jane Stewart, Tallulah; Iris Strother, Coushatta; Betty Wall, Tallulah; Linda Watson, Alexandria; Jessie Mae Boyd, Ruston; Sue DeFreese, Ruston; Mary Bettell, Dubach; Mary Ann King, Jonesboro; and Carolyn Marler, Ruston.

New officers to be installed are Martha Gillen of Shreveport, president; Harold Lynn Turner of Minden, vice-president; Myra Moore of Winnboro, recording secretary; and Elizabeth Rogers of Arcadia, treasurer.

A feature of the installation will be the presentation of an award to the outstanding sophomore woman student.

At the installation, the name of the Women's League will be officially changed to Association of Women Students.

Confederate Memorial Day Held In Dixie

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 26 (UP)—Today is Confederate Memorial Day in Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama.

These two incidents were reported by the Jacksonville Journal:

Someone telephoned the newspaper to ask where he could buy a "big" Confederate flag to fly and the Journal telephoned Laurel Hill, Fla., to ask about the health of William A. Lundy, 109, one of the three surviving Civil War veterans.

The telephone operator apparently never heard of him because she asked if he were on active duty. It turned out he doesn't have a telephone.

Benson Asks Close Study On Controls

NEW ORLEANS, April 26 (UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson today said that an increase in foreign cotton production has accompanied the price control program in the United States during the past 25 years.

"Before American cotton growers began to hold the price umbrella for foreign cotton producers," Benson said, "cotton production abroad totaled 11 million bales."

"This past year foreign cotton production was twice as great, 25 million bales."

He also told the annual convention of the American Cotton Shippers Assn. that a decline in American cotton acreage has accompanied the price control program.

Benson said cotton farmers, before the price control program and its accompanying acreage control, planted more than 40 million acres of cotton in the United States 25 years ago.

He said the 1957 and 1958 allotments were 17,600,000 acres. The cabinet member added the 1959 figure could be about 14 million.

Reexamination of the basic law governing price control was urged by Benson.

He cautioned the shippers against complacency caused by such recent favorable developments as increased exports and reduced carryovers.

"We must not wait until, having disposed of surplus number one, we have built up surplus number two," said Benson. "We should not wait with making changes until they are forced upon us."

Benson listed the next few years, "while we have the soil bank and the surplus disposal programs," as the time to make change.

Farmers will want allotments increased as the surplus is reduced, said Benson, but present law won't allow that.

With the present cotton law, the secretary of agriculture said total acreage allotments probably would not exceed the present level.

He took issue with what he called a traditional claim—that the cotton program costs the government nothing, since supplies are held in line with markets.

Benson said, however, that the Commodity Credit Corp. now sells cotton for export at six to seven cents below the domestic price.

In the past 15 months, the CCC loss was 535 million dollars, Benson said. At the 9,237,333 bales sold, this came to a loss of $60 a bale.

5 States Send Delegates To Lumber Meet

RUSTON, (Special) —Five states were represented at a hardwood log and lumber grading school which was concluded at Louisiana Tech at noon Friday.

The four-day school was sponsored by the Southern Hardwood Forestry group. Its purpose was to familiarize foresters with the basic principle of grading standard hardwood lumber and logs.

Facilities for the meetings were made available through L. P. Blackwell, head of the forestry department at Tech.

From Arkansas — Trufan F. Phifer, Little Rock; Charles Purvis, Jonesboro; James V. Tiner, Stuttgart; Dan Wittenburg, McGehee; Henry Milton and W. J. Whitaker, Warren; Victor K. Perry and Jerry G. Williams, Crossett; P. R. Hagenstein and C. E. Russell, Fordyce; and J. H. Conner and F. S. Townsley, Huttig.

From Georgia — Clinton S. Herrick, Jr., and Frank S. Renshaw, Atlanta.

From Mississippi — Floyd E. Adkins, Pachuta; W. H. Flowers, Waynesboro; R. W. Britt, Brookhaven; R. W. Church, Jackson; Rufus D. Logan, Rolling Fork; E. J. Skipper, Jackson; Roger Kinard, R. C. Morris and John A. Putnam, Stoneville.

From Tennessee — Bob Marshall and O. H. Goolsby, Memphis; and T. A. Harrington, Sewanee.

From Louisiana — Henry H. Galusha, Jr., Bogalusa; F. O. McDonald, Natchez; Harold L. Humphries, Farmerville; J. M. Prescott, Newellville; H. A. Lizona, Joyce; J. M. McCauley, Chatham; David V. Rosdahl, Winnfield; and the following from Ruston:

U. S. Okays Suez Plan For A Trial

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 26 (UP)—The United States accepted Egypt's new Suez Canal plan on a trial basis today even though not fully satisfied with it.

U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge told the U.N. Security Council Egypt's 1,000-word declaration on running the waterway, registered with the U.N. Wednesday, lacked necessary provisions for "organized cooperation" with the users to safeguard their interests.

But he said it should be "given a trial" and "practical arrangements" should be worked out under it while the 11-nation Council kept the question under review.

He announced that U.S. vessels would be authorized to pay tolls to Egypt only under protest until a settlement had been reached with the old Suez Canal Co., from which Egypt took the route last July 26. U.S. shippers have done this since that date to avoid being caught owing both Egypt and the company.

The Philippines agreed on a trial for the Egyptian scheme.

Colombia, Cuba and France said the unilateral declaration should be replaced by an international agreement.

French Delegate Guillaume Georges-Picot said that Egypt had reserved its right to bar Israeli shipping from the vital 103-mile link between the Red and Mediterranean seas.

Omar Loutfi of Egypt declared his country favored freedom of navigation through the canal but did not make clear whether this included Israel, long excluded.

Lodge said that the interests of Egypt and the users required "the assumption that there will in fact be no other interest. When the time comes for my resignation, it will be presented first to the President."

Humphrey issued the statement in answer to published reports that he would become chairman of the National Steel Corp., Pittsburgh.

Previously, he had denied rumors that he was leaving the government, or declined to comment on them.

Undersecretary W. Randolph Burgess has been mentioned as a likely replacement for Humphrey.

However, the Scripps-Howard newspapers, quoting reports from financial circles, said Robert B. Anderson of New York, former deputy defense secretary, was in line for the post.

Humphrey's aides interpreted his statement today as meaning he expected to step down before long.

Reports have been circulating for some time that he would resign after Congress finished work on President Eisenhower's $71,800,000,000 budget for fiscal 1958.

Paper Reports Alternate Plan On Mill Dropped

BATON ROUGE, April 26 (UP)—The Baton Rouge State-Times said today Crown-Zellerbach Corp. and Time Inc. have decided against moving a proposed paper mill to a Mississippi location.

The newspaper said the contract for clearing the St. Francisville site for the 31 million dollar project will be signed this afternoon.

The move to Mississippi was considered after difficulty with the Louisiana Board for Contractors over the leveling and grading and grading contract, the story said, with a view to getting the plant into operation quicker.

But the newspaper said all difficulties apparently have been cleared. Crown-Zellerbach has purchased 1,900 acres.

Two bids originally were received for the work, but the state board said neither the St. Francisville Construction Co. nor the Louisiana-Mississippi Pipe Line Construction Co. had proper license for the work.

The company re-advertised and received three bids. The new bids on the estimated $600,000 project have not been made public.

Appreciation Of Tourists, City Project

"Tourist Appreciation Day" will be observed in Monroe, Tuesday when an out-of-state car will be stopped and its occupants feted to a day of local hospitality by proclamation of Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard.

The tourists will receive an official welcome from Mayor Howard after being placed under "courtney" arrest. They will be guests of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

A hotel suite will be provided and a tour of interesting points throughout the city will be conducted.

They will be guests of a luncheon where souvenirs and gifts will be given them by local merchants and a tour of the outlying area will be conducted immediately following.

An afternoon tea and television appearance will be followed by dinner at one of five local restaurants. An hour of dancing will end the day.

The appreciation Day was planned yesterday by the convention committee of the Chamber of Commerce. C. W. Lovelless is chairman of the committee.

Secretary Jim Williams of the chamber said the event was planned in an effort to bring more attention to attracting the tourists to Monroe.

Hunt For Eggs Is Rescheduled

The North Monroe Lions Club will hold its belated "Easter Egg" hunt this Sunday at the Tiny-Tot Playground in Marie Place. It was announced last night. Time will be between 1 and 2 p.m.

The hunt is for all children living in the area up to eight years old.

Negroes Urged To Claim Ballot In Mississippi

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 26 (AP)—The Regional Council of Negro Leadership today suggested Mississippi Negroes could assume the place they seek in society by voting and raising their living and moral standards.

The sixth annual council, whose theme was "Negroes Voting in 82 Counties," was divided into a morning panel session and an afternoon general session. During the morning session, two ministers told some 500 delegates of the minister's role in the present transition.

The Rev. John LaBaue of Aound Bayou said:

"The minister's job is to prepare his people to measure up to their responsibilities. Too many of our people are running away from their responsibilities of citizenship and Christianity."

"Becoming conscious of our Christian and American duties and responsibilities is far more effective than rabble-rousing."

The Rev. E. P. Williams of Greenville said: "Perhaps the most effective way in which we can refute political ideologies which are not offensive to us is the ballot box."

He suggested clinics be set up in churches throughout the state to help Negroes how to register and vote and he urged all Negroes to take advantage of educational opportunities available to them.

The council planned to present a man of the year award to Dr. R. Otis, former president of Alcorn A&M (Negro) College.

J. E. Eppinette Heads Monroe's Optimist Club

James E. Eppinette was elected president of the Monroe Optimist club yesterday to succeed James obbs. The new officers will be installed in June.

A member of the local Optimist for the past eight years, Eppinette served as vice-president of the club during the past year.

Elected to serve as vice-presidents under Eppinette were Earl arver and Billye Adams. Garnd Moore was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Chosen by the 40-man club to its board of directors were Bud Lys, William L. Crowe, Charley amilton, Frank Delarzalere and B. Martin.

Slaughter was also elected to serve on the board of directors for two years.

Claims Rising In Fatal Crash

BATON ROUGE, April 26 (AP)—At least 17 new lawsuits today asking $1,417,696 in damages in the Michigan air crash at Dr. James Kimbrough.

The widow of the Louisiana State University professor followed recent action of Mrs. Jesse Webb and Mrs. Paul Pittman, who had suits asking $500,000 in damages from their husbands.

The three men were en route to a conference last spring when their plane plunged to earth. Mrs. Owen filed three district court lawsuits. She named as defendants the LSU Board of Supervisors and its insurer, the Manufacturers Casualty Insurance Co.; Rich Insurance Co.; Sheriff Ryan Clemmons; Cessna Aircraft Co.; Insurance Company of North America; the Hair Flying Service; J. D. Hair Sr. and J. D. Hair Jr.

CLUB EVENT

Russia Hurls Accusations At Fleet Moves

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 26 (UP)—Russia today accused the United States of attempting to "show the fist" to the Middle East by sending the Sixth Fleet into the Eastern Mediterranean.

Soviet Ambassador Arkady A. Sobolev attacked the Eisenhower Doctrine in the United Nations Security Council.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge answered Sobolev's allegations with a declaration that "there is nothing in the Eisenhower Doctrine which need bother anyone who does not contemplate violent deeds."

"If he (the Soviet delegate) did not harbor dreams of domination and of subversion of suffering peoples, similar to the monstrous Soviet subversion of Hungary of tragic memory, he would not be bothered by these American undertakings," Lodge said.

As for sending the Sixth Fleet to intervene in the Jordanian situation—as Sobolev had charged—Lodge said:

Swiss Give Jail Term To AP Newsman

BERN, Switzerland, April 26 (AP)—Michael Goldsmith, correspondent in Geneva for The Associated Press, went to jail tonight for a 24-hour period after he declined to disclose the source of information he had obtained in a spy case.

Hans Walder, federal examining magistrate, imposed the sentence summarily, holding Goldsmith in contempt of court.

This is the background: In a news story March 20 Goldsmith reported that a Swiss police official was under investigation on suspicion of passing to French agents certain information obtained by recording telephone conversations involving the Egyptian Embassy. The story said Egyptian officials became suspicious last November. This was around the time of the French-British invasion of Egypt.

On March 23 Atty. Gen. Rene Dubois shot himself to death in his home. He had become involved in the espionage case.

Magistrate Walder is in charge of the government inquiry into Dubois's suicide. He summoned Goldsmith to question him as to where he got information reported in the March 20 news story.

Goldsmith refused to divulge this, saying:

"It is not any lack of good will which leads me to refuse to testify, nor do I wish to favor or protect anyone who might be involved in this investigation. I am concerned with the basic question of press freedom, which can only exist when a journalist has the right to conceal his sources of information."

Walder announced there was no appeal against the 24-hour sentence, and officials said the reporter may be subject to further prosecution if he maintains his refusal to give the information sought.

The British Embassy lodged a protest with the Swiss Foreign Office, Goldsmith is a British subject.

The International Press Institute at its headquarters in Zurich issued a statement saying it deplored the action against Goldsmith.

"It is basic to freedom of information that correspondents, news agencies and newspapers report facts without fear of reprisals or coercion to reveal their sources," the statement said.

The International Press Institute, representing 867 editors, claims as a basic principle the defense of press freedom all over the world.

U. S. Okays Suez Plan For A Trial

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., April 26 (AP)—The United States accepted Egypt's new Suez Canal plan on a trial basis today even though not fully satisfied with it.

Israeli circles told reporters the United States this morning had brought this "assumption" to the attention of Israel's U.S. embassy and U.N. delegation. They said, "In these circumstances, Israel's obvious course is to exercise its rights under that assumption in due time and course."

The declaration says Egypt will afford free navigation of the canal "within the limits of and in accordance with the provisions of" the 1888 Constantinople Convention for that purpose.

'Smut' Sign Of Inferiority In Writing, Professor Says

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., April 26.—Two out-of-state educators listed at the University of Florida today told the 21st annual South-eastern Literary Festival that the best "a writer can gain best effects" Dr. Leland Miles of Hanover, N.H., said, "Christian writing comes from new uses of old and common words, not by hunting for strange words. Words like hope, love, fear, an author wants to convince me Taylor, professor of Mississippi's man nature is not fulfilled in the Blue Mountain College where the festival originated, advised hopeful writers to be aware of the value of Christian attitudes. "An author gets his intangibles from the society in which he lives, his cultural heritage, and his individuality," he said. "Christian attitudes are rich in humanistic values, since they assume that human nature is not fulfilled in the routines of survival, but in dealing with the eternal issues of good and evil." The festival presented awards to student authors in five categories. Short story—Norman McCarver, Baylor University, Waco, Tex., first; Frances Dillworth, Rensselaer, Miss., Blue Mountain College, second. Poem—Mary Ann Pittman, Washington, D. C., MSCW, first; Bonita Appleton, Byhalia, Miss., University of Mississippi, second. Informal essay—William Leon Dodd, Delta State, first; Evelyn Kraft, Florence State Teachers' College, second. Formal essay—Peggy Howland, Florence State Teachers, first; Ann Carsley, Millsaps, second. Honorable mention went to Bill Hunter, Florence State Teachers, short story; Roland W. Oesterreich, Mississippi Southern, one-act play; Sidney Rickman, MSCW, informal essay; Patricia Manning, Delta State, informal essay, and James Hull, Delta State, formal essay.

'Smut' Sign Of Inferiority In Writing, Professor Says

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., April 26.—Two out-of-state educators today told the 21st annual Southern Literary Festival that the best writing comes from new uses of old, common words and contains no profanity.

Harry Warfel, professor of English at the University of Florida, said, "he can do so in a better context than profanity. Smut is not a sign of greatness, but of inferiority."

Blue Mountain College where the festival originated, advised hopeful writers to be aware of the value of Christian attitudes.

The festival presented awards to student authors in five categories. Short story—Norman McCarver, Baylor University, Waco, Tex., first; Frances Dilworth, Rienzi, Miss., Blue Mountain College, second.

State College for Women, first; Sidney Rickman, Columbus, Miss., second.

Formal essay—Peggy Howland, Florence State Teachers, first; Ann Carsley, Millsaps, second. Honorable mention went to Bill Hunter, Florence State Teachers, first; Roland W. ## Students Present Program At Music Teachers Spring Meeting

The Monroe West Monroe chapter of Louisiana Music Teachers Association held their final spring meeting on Monday evening in Brown Hall Auditorium, Northeast State College.

A program of piano compositions was presented by students of members. Mrs. W. E. Williams served as program chairman, assisted by Mrs. Everett Zeagler and Miss Jane Wallace.

Appearing on the program were: Sandra Calloway, Sandra Nelson, Becky Middleton, Rex Morris, Mary Jo Strauss, Katherine Martin, Barbara Gilliland, Susanne Messina, Jan Perkins, Linda Crowe, Judith Swayze, Jimmie Wainwright, Caroline White and Sylvia Chambliss.

During the business session, Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, president, welcomed former member, Frank Parker, who has recently returned from service with the armed forces in Germany. Joe Monroe was received as a new member. Officers elected to serve for the coming year were: President, Frank Parker; vice president, Miss Lila Scogin; recording secretary, Mrs. Bennie Andrews; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harvey Nelson; treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Clark; historian, Miss Gertrude Sandrock; reporter, Mrs. Willys Hopkins; parliamentarian, James Monroe.

Before adjournment annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were given by Mrs. Bennie Andrews and Miss Lila Scogin.

Those attending were: Mrs. B. D. Allbritton, Mrs. Bennie Andrews, Mrs. Willys Hopkins, Mrs. E. Everett Lawson, Dr. Harry Lemert, James Monroe, Mrs. Harvey Nelson, Miss Lila Scogin, Dr. Wilfred Smith, Mrs. Eloise Stanhone, Mrs. M. M. Tabb, Charles Wilhite, Mrs. W. E. Williams and Mrs. Everett Zeagler.

Series Of Parties Fete Miss Riser

Among the last of the bridal parties was a dinner party this Wednesday night honoring Miss Louise Riser before her marriage this morning to Vincent F. Dana.

Mrs. Frances Ortis, an aunt of the bride-elect was hostess for the event which was held at the Saddle and Spur.

The table held a beautiful centerpiece of lilies and gerberas with candles burning at each end. Those present besides the honoree and hostess were Mrs. Jerome Dana, Mrs. Melvin Riser, Mrs. Fred Riser, Mrs. Charles Cramer, Mrs. Lenard Hearson, Miss Barbara Hale, Misses Polly and Marjorie Riser, Little Misses Sherrilyn and Carolyn Ortis. Mrs. Ortis presented the bride with a gift of silver.

Mrs. Tony Counts, Mrs. Edgar Aston, and Mrs. Betty Britt were hostesses at the Britt home on Lexington Ave., earlier at a miscellaneous shower honoring the bride-elect.

Easter lilies were used in the reception rooms, and on the dining table, an arrangement of white roses and greenery surrounding a bride was featured.

A conversation period was enjoyed before the beautifully wrapped gifts were presented to the bride. The guests were Miss Patricia Davis, Mrs. James E. Martin, Miss John Humphries, Miss May Mars, Miss Martha Jane Oden, Miss Willie Flanagan, Miss Joyce Lanier, Miss Bobbie Sue Lanier, Mrs. Jerome Dana, and Mrs. Melvin Riser.

Mrs. R. C. Jolissaint and Mrs. Charles Cramer entertained Tuesday night at the Jolissaint home, on Montgomery in West Monroe.

Beautiful spring flowers decorated the living room when the guests were presented with favors as they were greeted by Mrs. Charles Cramer and Mrs. James Seay upon arrival.

The serving table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a beautiful arrangement of pink and white carnation and greenery surrounding a double wedding band. Mrs. R. C. Jolissaint presided at the punch bowl. Bridal games were introduced by the hostesses before the bride was presented with the beautifully wrapped gifts.

Those present besides the honoree and hostesses were Mrs. E. Antley, Mrs. Doris Ragland, Black, Mrs. Jerome Dana, Mrs. T. P. Hale, Mrs. Percy J. LeBlanc, Mrs. Frank Jowers, Mrs. Fred Riser, Mrs. Irene Byrne, Mrs. Frances BeDoll, Mrs. Joe Seay, Mrs. Melvin Riser, Miss Harriet Hayes, Miss Mary Lou LeBlanc, Miss Barbara Hale, Miss Shelia Hale, Miss Carolyn Jowers, Miss Cathy Jolissaint, Misses Polton, Patsy, and Marjorie Riser.

HAVE YOU HEARD

WHY GROW OLD

Lose Pounds For Health As Well As Beauty

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is so important to lose any overweight you may have, not only because of appearance but also because of health and comfort. It is even important to lose the first extra 10 pounds you may accumulate. Before you know it that 10 may turn into 20, and even 10 pounds can ruin an otherwise youthful figure.

Today we all know that overweight is a real health hazard. It places a strain on the heart, can raise the blood pressure and lay the foundation for chronic disease.

Too many pounds also are uncomfortable. That roll above the girdle or a protruding abdomen are uncomfortable physically as well as psychologically. Why not start in right now and banish such handicaps?

Here are the menus for the 9 Day Reducing Diet for Sunday and Monday.

Sunday's Menu
BREAKFAST
 Two slices crisp bacon
 One thin dry slice of whole wheat toast
 One-half grapefruit
 Black coffee

DINNER
 Chilled orange juice
 Serving of baked or broiled chicken
 Celery
 Olives (only two or three)
 One-half cup lima beans
 One roll

SUPPER
 Scrambled eggs
 Lettuce and cucumber salad
 One glass skimmed milk

Monday's Menu
BREAKFAST
 One-half grapefruit
 One boiled egg
 One thin dry slice of whole wheat toast
 Black coffee

LUNCHEON
 Chicken sandwich (no butter—thin slices of whole wheat bread)
 Sliced tomatoes or canned tomatoes

MISS MIMI CLARK
 Miss Clark
 Receives Honor

Miss Mimi Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Clark, Jr. of Mer Rouge was one of ten members of the Junior Class at Newcomb College recently elected to Alpha Sigma Sigma Honorary Society, which is in the process of becoming affiliated with Mortar Board, (National Honorary Organization). The requirements for membership include a high scholastic average for three years preceding election, service to the school, leadership on the campus, etc.

Miss Clark, a music major and member of the A Cappella Choir has been on tour the past week. This year, the choir gave concerts in Hot Springs, Little Rock, El Dorado and Fort Smith.

Miss Clark will also go to Houston for the Annual Tulane Green-wave Festival on May 4th.

DINNER
 Minute steak or chops
 Salad of shredded cabbage and carrots
 One-half cup spinach-greens or broccoli

SUPPER
 One-half grapefruit

YOUR PROBLEMS

Female Who Depends On Looks Leaning On A Feeble Reed

Dear Ann, I'm a woman 43 and have been divorced seven years. My husband pays a generous sum in alimony regularly and believes me, I earned every penny of it.

My problem is me. I get panicky when I look in the mirror and realize that every one of my 43 years is showing. I keep my hair tinted a deep auburn and my figure is good. But the wrinkles around my eyes and mouth terrify me.

I dread getting old and feel so helpless. You can say what you want about "mellowing like a fine wine" but that fresh bloom of youth is what men go for. Shall I have "a little plastic surgery"? I want to make a new life for myself and I feel the calendar is my worst enemy. — Mrs. Ponce D'Leon

George Bernard Shaw described the lines in a woman's face as her "credentials for humanity" — and indeed they are.

The "foolish age" is not the giggle, teens, but that time when a woman struggles to hang on to youth, as if added years were something to be ashamed of.

A charming, interesting and interested woman is far more beautiful after three minutes of conversation, than a vain, empty-headed doll whose perfect features are her only recommendation.

Have "a little surgery" if you want, but it won't solve your real problem. The female who depends entirely on her looks is leaning on a feeble reed.

Dear Ann: Will you please tell my husband and me what parents should expect from their children? Our daughters, now 15 and 18 were given all the necessities and a few of the luxuries of life. We thought they'd appreciate it when they grew up, but they don't.

Now that they earn $10 and $12 a week baby - sitting they want to keep all the money they get. We own a grocery store and when they help out with customers they expect to be paid.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

The Fleur de Lis Of The Twin Cities Meet

The Fleur de Lis of the Twin Cities held their regular monthly meeting, Wednesday morning, April 24th, at the home of Mrs. Julius Fink on Forsythe Avenue in Monroe.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. W. G. Haab, president. Mrs. J. W. Golsen asked the members to help in decorating and making flower arrangements for the show to be held at the Virginia Hotel on Saturday, April 27th.

Make and name your own arrangement was the assignment for this month's meeting. Each member present brought an arrangement and discussion followed.

Mrs. John Lewis made arrangements illustrating to the class rhythm through movement or color harmony, which is the assignment for next month. She used the curved stalks of Bells of Ireland in making a triangular pattern with yellow green leaves at the base. This was a very good illustration of rhythm through movement.

The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Warren Breard, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. C. B. Edwards, Mrs. J. W. Golsen, Mrs. W. G. Haab, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. J. W. Nettles, Mrs. Sam Fulton.

rell, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Wayne Warren and Mrs. Julius Fink, hostesses.

WHY GROW OLD

Lose Pounds For Health As Well As Beauty

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is so important to lose any overweight you may have, not only because of appearance but also because of health and comfort. It is even important to lose the first extra 10 pounds you may accumulate. Before you know it that 10 may turn into 20, and even 10 pounds can ruin an otherwise youthful figure.

Today we all know that overweight is a real health hazard. It places a strain on the heart, can raise the blood pressure and lay the foundation for chronic disease. Too many pounds also are uncomfortable. That roll above the girdle or a protruding abdomen are uncomfortable physically as well as psychologically. Why not start in right now and banish such handicaps?

Here are the menus for the 9-Day Reducing Diet for Sunday and Monday.

Sunday's Menu
BREAKFAST
 Two slices crisp bacon
 One thin dry slice of whole wheat toast
 One-half grapefruit
 Black coffee

DINNER
 Chilled orange juice
 Serving of baked or broiled chicken
 Celery
 Olives (only two or three)
 One-half cup lima beans
 One roll
 Fresh fruit cup

SUPPER
 Scrambled eggs
 Lettuce and cucumber salad
 One glass skimmed milk

Monday's Menu
BREAKFAST
 One-half grapefruit
 One boiled egg
 One thin dry slice of whole wheat toast
 Black coffee

LUNCHEON
 Chicken sandwich (no butter—thin slices of whole wheat bread)
 Sliced tomatoes or canned tomatoes

Miss Clark Receives Honor

Miss Mimi Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Clark, Jr. of Mer Rouge, was one of ten members of the Junior Class at Newcomb College recently elected to Alpha Sigma Sigma Honorary Society, which is in the process of becoming affiliated with Mortar Board, (National Honorary Organization). The requirements for membership include a high scholastic average for three years preceding election, service to the school, leadership on the campus, etc.

Miss Clark, a music major and member of the A Cappella Choir has been on tour the past week. This year, the choir gave concerts in Hot Springs, Little Rock, El Dorado and Fort Smith.

Miss Clark will also go to Houston for the Annual Tulane Green-wave Festival on May 4th.

DINNER
 Minute steak or chops
 Salad of shredded cabbage and carrots
 One-half cup spinach-greens or broccoli
 One-half grapefruit

The Fleur de Lis Of The Twin Cities Meet

The Fleur de Lis of the Twin Cities held their regular monthly meeting, Wednesday morning, April 24th, at the home of Mrs. Julius Fink on Forsyth Avenue in Monroe.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. W. G. Haab, president. Mrs. J. W. Golsen asked the members to help in decorating and making flower arrangements for the Y. W. C. A. luncheon and style show to be held at the Virginia Hotel on Saturday, April 27th.

Make and name your own arrangement was the assignment for this month's meeting. Each member present brought an arrangement and discussion followed.

Mrs. John Lewis made arrangements illustrating to the class rhythm through movement or color harmony, which is the assignment for next month. She used the curved stalks of Bells of Ireland in making a triangular pattern with yellow green leaves at the base. This was a very good illustration of rhythm through movement.

The meeting adjourned and refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Warren Beard, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. C. B. Edwards, Mrs. J. W. Golsen, Mrs. W. G. Haab, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. J. W. Nettles, Mrs. Sam Full-rell, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Wayne Warren and Mrs. Julius Fink, hostesses.

San Francisco - Oakland Bay Bridge every day. The span carries six lanes of automobile traffic on its upper deck, with three lanes of trucks and buses, and two train tracks below.

Tornado Disaster

Aid Allocation Set At $115,386

ATLANTA, April 26.—The American Red Cross has spent or committed $115,386 for aid to victims of April tornadoes and windstorms in six southeastern states, J. W. Varner, southeastern area director of disaster services, reported today.

Operations continue in many of the 40 counties where storms struck. A total of 436 families have applied for post-emergency aid, and about 100 more families are expected to apply for supplementary funds to reconstruct and refurbish homes and small businesses, as well as for medical supplies and other needs.

Expenditures thus far by states have been: Alabama, $38,595.49 in 13 counties; Mississippi, $13,805.13 in 8 counties; Tennessee, $17,100 in 2 counties; Georgia, $15,187.18 in 9 counties; South Carolina, $2,743.58 in 4 counties; and North Carolina, $1,941.99 in 7 counties. These totals do not include numerous major cases, particularly in the Carolinas and in Alabama, in which final fund grants have not yet been made.

Several families will require substantial fund grants for long-term medical care of storm injured, Varner said.

Survey Shows Daylight Saving Time Spreading

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Several new states will observe daylight saving time begins at "fast time" on a statewide basis 2 a.m. Sunday, and a survey shows its spreading.

A movement is growing to continue daylight saving time until the last Sunday in October, instead of ending it the last Sunday in September.

Farmers, the principal opponents of summer fast time, will be horrified to learn that a new movement is under way — to put daylight time into effect the year round.

The movement so far has gained little support except in Louisville, Ky., where such an ordinance is being debated.

In Indiana, some communities having year-around daylight time will now have to end it in the fall because of a new state law.

Generally, the Eastern Seaboard south to Washington, D.C., will observe daylight saving time, as will California, Nevada and scattered cities and states in between. Most of the South, Middle West, Southwest and Far West will ignore the time switch.

New states going on daylight time statewide this year are Indiana (spotty in recent years), Wisconsin and Minnesota.

West Virginia will be half and half this year, and central Ohio seems likely to join the northwestern part of the state on daylight time, while other parts of Ohio remain on standard.

The late October closing date, pioneered in New England and adopted in recent years by many Eastern areas, will spread this year to about half of Maryland, including Baltimore; and to areas in lower Delaware that last year were not in stride with Wilmington and the northern end of the state.

Minnesota's new law has brought second thoughts to many communities in neighboring North Dakota, Fargo, and other eastern North Dakota points have indicated they will follow Minnesota's lead.

Aside from these changes, most Americans will either turn clocks up one hour Sunday or ignore the whole thing according to the way they did it last year.

Oil Worker Killed By Valve Blast

NEW ORLEANS, April 26 (AP)—A Gretna, La., oil well worker was killed when a safety valve blasted off the top of a tube being pulled from a well. It struck him on the head.

B. J. Nunn, 25, died as he was being rushed to Port Sulphur hospital in a company helicopter. He was an employee of the California Company.

Nunn was a native of High Point, N. C., and had a wife and two children.

In Panama, primary school education is compulsory for all children from the ages of 7 to 15.

Woodman Dies As Tree Topples

FOREST, Miss., April 26 (AP)—Walter L. Glaze, 24-year-old timberman, died today when a tree he was felling toppled onto him.

J. H. Burnham, Glaze's brother-in-law, said they had been cutting timber on a tract in the Lemon community at the time of the accident.

Burnham said he did not know of the accident until he sought Glaze and found his body under the tree.

Tornado Disaster Aid Allocation Set At $115,386

ATLANTA, April 26—The American Red Cross has spent or committed $115,386 for aid to victims of April tornadoes and windstorms in six southeastern states, J. W. Varner, southeastern area director of disaster services, reported today.

Operations continue in many of the 40 counties where storms struck. A total of 436 families have applied for post-emergency aid, and about 100 more families are expected to apply for supplementary funds to reconstruct and furnish homes and small businesses, as well as for medical supplies and other needs.

Expenditures thus far by states have been: Alabama, $58,595.49 in 13 counties; Mississippi, $19,805.13 in 8 counties; Tennessee, $17,100 in 2 counties; Georgia, $15,187.18 in 9 counties; South Carolina, $2,763.58 in 4 counties; and North Carolina, $1,934.39 in 7 counties. These totals do not include numerous major cases, particularly in the Carolinas and in Alabama, in which final fund grants have not yet been made.

Several families will require substantial fund grants for long-term medical care of storm injured, Varner said.

Survey Shows Daylight Saving Time Spreading

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS: Several new states will observe daylight saving time begins at 2 a.m. Sunday, and a survey shows its spreading.

A movement is growing to continue daylight saving time until the last Sunday in October, instead of ending it the last Sunday in September.

Farmers, the principal opponents of summer fast time, will be horrified to learn that a new movement is under way — to put daylight time into effect the year round.

The movement so far has gained little support except in Louisville, Ky., where such an ordinance is being debated.

In Indiana, some communities having year-around daylight time will now have to end it in the fall because of a new state law.

Generally, the Eastern Seaboard south to Washington, D.C., will observe daylight saving time, as will California, Nevada and scattered cities and states in between. Most of the South, Middle West, Southwest and Far West will ignore the time switch.

New states going on daylight time statewide this year are Indiana (spotty in recent years), Wisconsin and Minnesota.

West Virginia will be half and half this year, and central Ohio seems likely to join the northwestern part of the state on daylight time, while other parts of Ohio remain on standard.

The late October closing date, pioneered in New England and adopted in recent years by many Eastern areas, will spread this year to about half of Maryland, including Baltimore; and to areas in lower Delaware that last year were not in stride with Wilmington and the northern end of the state.

Minnesota's new law has brought second thoughts to many communities in neighboring North Dakota, Fargo, and other eastern North Dakota points have indicated they will follow Minnesota's lead.

Aside from these changes, most Americans will either turn clocks up one hour Sunday or ignore the whole thing according to the way they did it last year.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

INTERPRETING SUEZ

U. S. Agreement To 'Trial' Of Egypt's Plan Irks Allies

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States, by agreeing to a "trial run" under Egypt's terms for operation of the Suez Canal, does not please either Britain, France or Israel, but has been able to find no other workable alternatives.

The decision was not made until after a diplomatic search had been made for a club to use on Egypt. Nothing acceptable was found. Financial pressure will work eventually, but it is too slow for the moment.

The ability of Britain and France to apply such pressure has been considerably weakened, at least for the time being, by Nasser's nationalization of the foreign-owned banks in Egypt.

The United States, also, is being very careful to preserve and build up among the Arab states the more friendly attitude developed through her opposition to last fall's Anglo-French-Israeli invasion.

By that token, she is unwilling to join in any really brutal economic blockade which could cause the downfall of the Nasser government.

By paying canal tolls under protest, the United States will keep the situation open. This will put the French and British governments under heavy pressure from their own shipping interests to relax their boycott.

The situation will then become one of waiting to see, first, whether canal operations are conducted normally, and secondly, whether the Nasser government will be able to withstand the country's poor economic condition, which will be only slightly alleviated by the tolls.

By opening the way for negotiations over acceptance of the Eisenhower Doctrine, Egypt may undertake another switch in policy to take advantage of the battered side of the bread.

There is every possibility that Nasser will consider these things carefully before delaying American policy, under which he has been warned not to go too far in his campaign for the disintegration of Jordan.

People who have been dealing with Nasser do not consider him a fool, and some even give him a grudging admiration for the manner in which he has been able to twist the tails of some of the world's greatest powers. But many do consider him bull-headed, volatile and dangerous.

And they think there is considerable doubt that he can escape the eventual results of the economic stress which his policies have produced.

BATON ROUGE, April 26 (AP) — A 48-year-old Natchez, Miss., man died early today from an apparently self-inflicted gunshot wound, Sheriff Bryan Clemmons said.

He was identified as William B. Robinson.

Deputies said they received a call from Baton Rouge General Hospital saying Robinson died at 1:30 a.m. from a gunshot wound in the head that apparently was self-inflicted.

Dr. Chester A. Williams Jr., East Baton Rouge Parish coroner, said Robinson was brought to Baton Rouge yesterday for treatment.

Hospital attendants last night reported him in critical condition following brain surgery.

Robinson was accompanied by his employer, Jack Thomas of Natchez.

EL CENTRO, Calif. — Mike Russell of radio station KXO in relating that a disc jockey had just begun a rock 'n' roll record when an earthquake hit:

"Someone said 'that was a real rock 'n' roller.'"

NEW YORK — Sen. John L. McClellan, chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee, on labor racketeering:

Thousands Seek Return Of Funds At Savings Firms

CHICAGO, April 26 (UP)—Thousands of worried, angry depositors shoved and pushed in front of a closed savings firm today in hopes that the state would give them a chance to get their money.

State officials meanwhile joined with county and federal investigators in tracing the tangled financial affairs of C. Oren Menick, owner of three savings institutions which were the state closed Thursday to prevent "bank runs."

One trail appeared to run directly to Orville Hodge, former state auditor who embezzled $2,500,000 of the state's money and went to prison for it.

A $50,000 check, reported to have come from a hidden person account of Menick's, was cashed at the Southmore Bank and Trust Co. in Chicago, it was revealed.

It was at this bank that Hodge, a business friend of Menick's, cashed more than one million dollars of phony state checks.

The current state auditor, Elbert Smith, tried to assure about 32,000 shareholders or depositors today that they would get their money—or at least 85 per cent of it.

End Body Hunt In Virginia As Man Seen Alive

HOPEWELL, Va., April 26 (UP)—Military authorities today called off the search for the body of a missing Texas warrant officer after receiving reports he was seen alive in Hopewell since his disappearance.

Lt. Col. Harry S. Bursinger, singer, provost marshal at Fort Lee, said he had received several "very credible reports" that CWO John Hissong, 36, of Houston, "has been seen in this vicinity since the time of his reported disappearance."

Hissong was at first believed dead after his car was found Monday on a bridge over the Appomattox River near Hopewell with a note inside saying that he "was heavily in debt and that 'I am convinced this is the best way out.'"

Drugging operations began Monday but were called off Thursday.

The inventor of spectacles is not known. Bifocal spectacles were invented by Benjamin Franklin.

Northeast La. Deaths

DEBORA ANN CARTER
RAYVILLE, (Special)—Funeral services for Debora Ann Carter will be held at 3 p.m. in the New Salem Cemetery near Rayville, with Dr. H. R. Herrington conducting the grave-side service.

The 15-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Carter, she succumbed in Reno, Nevada on Thursday.

The body will lie in state at the Mulhearn Funeral Home until time of services.

Survivors, in addition to her parents, include her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Rayville; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Carter of Alto, and several aunts and uncles.

MRS. D. E. HULL
Services will be held at 3 p.m. today in the Stone Avenue Methodist Church for Mrs. Dollie Emma Hull, who passed away yesterday morning at her home, 304 S. Third, Monroe.

The Rev. L. L. Yeager will conduct the service, and interment will follow in the River-view cemetery, under direction of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Survivors include one son, Charles H. Hull, Jr., and two grandchildren, Dollie Ann Hull and Carl Howard Hull.

Pallbearers will be Noel Henderson, L. M. Gunter, Wilmer Decell, A. D. Wallace, W. C. Buchanan and L. F. Cummings, Sr.

MRS. MARLE ADAMS
BASTROP, (Special)—Mrs. Marle Peterkin Adams, 78, of Jones died Friday in a Monroe hospital after a two-year illness.

She was a member of the Jones Methodist church and a lifelong resident of Morehouse Parish.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Blackwell-Golden Funeral Chapel with Rev. Cagle officiating. Burial will follow in the Christ Church Cemetery in Bastrop.

Survivors are her husband, Weston Adams, of Jones; a niece, Mrs. Dave Shackelford, of Jones; a daughter, Mrs. E. P. Zachary, of Jones.

MRS. EVELYN TELANO
Funeral services for Mrs. Evelyn Telano will be conducted at 2:30 this afternoon in the chapel of the Mulhearn Funeral home, with Dr. Ben Oliphant, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be in the Hall cemetery on the Winslow road.

Mrs. Telano was claimed by death at the age of 83 early on Friday at St. Joseph's Home.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Emmie Caldwell and Mrs. Julia Meeks, both of Monroe; three sons, Casey Telano of Folsom, La., and Kay Telano of Folsom, La., and Fred Telano of Folsom, La.; and a nephew, E. P. Zachary, of Jones.

Pallbearers will be Woodrow Templeton, Wesley Templeton, Claude Templeton, P. D. Dutley, Willie Templeton, and Lincoln Telano, all nephews of Mrs. Telano.

MRS. STELLA WILCOX
Mrs. Stella Burkensroad Wilcox, widow of Frank Delonson Wilcox, died Friday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George M. Snellings, 101 Country Club Road, Monroe.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 3:30 p.m. at the Grace Episcopal church, officiating, interment will follow in Memorial Park Cemetery under the direction of Peters Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be R. M. Troy, G. S. Young, E. F. Dalton, L. K. BOMB DAMAGE DISCUSSED

Bonn, Germany, April 26 (UP)—The Bonn government announced today West Germany is negotiating with Ireland for compensation of damage caused by German bombs in Dublin during World War II. The Irish government requested payment for damage caused by bombs dropped accidentally on the Irish capital during the war.

Thousands Seek Return Of Funds At Savings Firms

CHICAGO, April 26 (UP)—Thousands of worried, angry depositors shoved and pushed in front of a closed savings firm today in hopes that the state would give them a chance to get their money.

State officials meanwhile joined with county and federal investigators in tracing the tangled financial affairs of C. Oren Mensik, owner of three savings institutions which were the state closed Thursday to prevent "bank runs."

One trail appeared to run directly to Orville Hodge, former state auditor who embezzled $2,500,000 of the state's money and went to prison for it.

A $50,000 check, reported to have come from a hidden person account of Mensik's, was cashed at the Southwestern Bank and Trust Co. in Chicago, it was revealed.

It was at this bank that Hodge, a business friend of Mensik's, cashed more than one million dollars of phony state checks.

The current state auditor, Elbert Smith, tried to assure about 32,000 shareholders or depositors today that they would get their money—or at least 85 per cent of it.

End Body Hunt In Virginia As Man Seen Alive

HOPEWELL, Va., April 26 (UP)—Military authorities today called off the search for the body of a missing Texas warrant officer after receiving reports he was seen alive in Hopewell since his disappearance.

Lt. Col. Harry S. Bursinger, singer, provost marshal at Fort Lee, said he had received several "very credible reports" that CWO John Hissong, 38, of Houston "has been seen in this vicinity since the time of his reported disappearance."

Hissong was at first believed dead after his car was found Monday on a bridge over the Apalachicola River near Hopewell with a note inside saying that he was heavily in debt and that "I am convinced this is the best way out."

Dragging operations began Monday but were called off Thursday. The inventor of spectacles is not known. Bifocal spectacles were invented by Benjamin Franklin.

Northeast La. Deaths

DEBORA ANN CARTER
RAYVILLE (Special)—Funeral services for Debora Ann Carter will be held at 3 p.m. in the New Salem Cemetery near Rayville, with Dr. H. R. Herrington conducting the grave-side service.

The 15-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey M. Carter, she succumbed in Reno, Nevada, on Thursday.

The body will lie in state at the Mulhearn Funeral Home until time of services.

Survivors, in addition to her parents, include her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Rayville; her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Carter of Alto, and several aunts and uncles.

MRS. D. E. HULL
Services will be held at 3 p.m. today in the Stone Avenue Methodist Church for Mrs. Dollie Emma Hull, who passed away yesterday morning at her home, 304 S. Third, Monroe. The Rev. I. L. Yeager will conduct the service, and interment will follow in the River-view cemetery, under direction of the Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Survivors include one son, Charles H. Hull, Jr.; and two grandchildren, Dollie Ann Hull and Carl Howard Hull.

Palbearers will be Noel Henderson, L. M. Gunter, Wilmer Decell, A. D. Wallace, W. C. Buchanan and L. F. Cummings, Sr.

MRS. MABLE ADAMS
BASTROP (Special)—Mrs. Mable Peterkin Adams, 78, of Jones died Friday in a Monroe hospital after a two-year illness.

She was a member of the Jones Methodist church and a lifelong resident of Morehouse Parish.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Blackwell-Golden Funeral Chapel with Rev. Cagle officiating. Burial will follow in the Christ Church Cemetery in Bastrop.

Survivors are her husband, Weston Adams, of Jones; a niece, Mrs. Dave Shackelford, of Yazoo, Miss.; and a nephew, E. P. Zachary, of Jones.

MRS. EVELYN TELANO
Funeral services for Mrs. Evelyn Telano will be conducted at 2:30 this afternoon in the chapel of the Mulhearn Funeral home, with Dr. Ben Oliphant, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be in the Hall cemetery on the Winnboro road.

Mrs. Telano was claimed by death at the age of 83 early on Friday at St. Joseph's home.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Emmie Caldwell and Mrs. Julia Meeks, both of Monroe; three sons, Casey Telano of Felsenthal, Ark., and King Telano and Fred Telano, both of Monroe; one sister, Mrs. Martha Books of Bastrop; 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Woodrow Templeton, Wesley Templeton, Claude Templeton, F. D. Duffey, Willie Telano, and Lincoln Telano, all nephews of Mrs. Telano.

MRS. STELLA WILCOX
Mrs. Stella Wilcox, widow of Frank Delonson Wilcox, died Friday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George M. Snellings, 101 Country Club Road, Monroe.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 3:30 p.m. at the Grace Episcopal Church with Father J. M. Allin officiating. Interment will follow in Memorial Park Cemetery under the direction of Peters Funeral Home.

Palbearers will be R. M. Troy, G. S. Young, E. F. Dalton, L. K. BOMB DAMAGE DISCUSSED

Bonn, Germany, April 26 (UP)—The Bonn government announced today that West Germany is negotiating with Ireland for compensation of damage caused by German bombs in Dublin during World War II. The Irish government requested payment for damage caused by bombs dropped accidentally on the Irish capital during the war.

Turner, Henry Bernstein, H. G. McDonald, J. H. Trousdale, Kent Breard and William B. Burkenroad.

The body will lie in state at the Snellings residence until 2 p.m. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Marie Louise Snellings of Monroe and three grandchildren.

Stocks Decline As Some Issues Take Wide Moves

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—The stock market dropped a bit today, registering its first decline of the week.

But trading was brisk most of the session. Some issues made wide moves to the upside or downside.

The Associated Press average of 80 stocks dropped 40 cents to $18.80 with the industrials down $1.80, the rails down 30 cents and the utilities up 10 cents to another new 1957 high.

Of 1,173 issues traded, losses outnumbered gains by 519 to 387. There were 43 new 1957 highs and 39 new lows.

Volume was 2,380,000 shares compared with 2,640,000 yesterday.

Of the 15 most active stocks, 9 rose, 5 fell and one was unchanged.

Bethlehem headed the list, off 1/2 at 45 3/4 on 78,700 shares.

Wide-moving American Sugar dropped 7 1/2 and American Hawaiian Steamship lost 10. Unsettled by the Middle East crisis, Getty Oil fell 2 1/2, Gulf Oil 3/4 and Royal Dutch 1/2.

Corporate bonds were irregular on slightly improved volume.

U. S. government bonds declined in slow dealings over the counter.

Cotton

New York

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 25 cents a bale lower to 25 cents higher in mixed trading today.

There was active selling at midday after a speech by Agriculture Secretary Benson at the American Cotton Shippers Assn. meeting in New Orleans urging lower cotton prices and larger crops as a long term solution to the cotton problem.

Losses extended to $1.35 a bale, with distant October the weakest month on the board. The secretary also stressed that any long range program should be based on keeping the merchandising of cotton in private hands.

These views matched those of a cotton trade committee which drew proposals earlier in the week designed to make cotton more competitive both here and abroad. However, traders wondered whether Congress would be friendly to such changes in cotton policy.

Spot houses also took advantage of declines to cover in futures against business in actual cotton. In addition, expectations of a higher mid-April cotton parity and continued adverse weather conditions in Texas stimulated demand for new crop months. There was only one May transferable notice issued at New York, with nearby May futures closing lower on further liquidation.

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, April 26 (AP)—Cotton futures declined early here today under long liquidation and a small amount of hedge selling but rallied from the lows later on trade buying and weekend short covering.

b-Bid; a-Advance; d-Delcline.

NEW ORLEANS, April 26 (AP)—The average price of one inch spot cotton at 14 designated southern spot markets today was unchanged at 33.85 cents a pound; previous day 33.85; week ago 33.88; month ago 33.85; year ago 36.36. Average for the past 30 market days 33.73; middling 15-16 inch average 32.61. Sales 35,677.

NEW ORLEANS, April 26 (AP)—Spot cotton closed steady and unchanged. Sales 12,853; low middling 27.65; middling 33.90; good middling 34.65; receipts 8,639; stock 349,357.

GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 26 (AP)—Grain futures mostly moved upward in late transactions on the Board of Trade today in buying apparently inspired by the tense situation in the Middle East.

Old style wheat closed 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, new style wheat 1/4 to 3/4 up, corn 3/4 to 1/2 higher, oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, rye 1 cent higher to 1/4 lower, soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 higher, and land unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower. ## Delta Reports Earnings; Holds Dividend Record

ATLANTA, April 26 (Special)—Delta Air Lines today reported net earnings after taxes of $1,534,123 for the nine months period ending March 31, equal to $1.37 per share.

The airline's board of directors voted a dividend of 30 cents per share, payable June 3 to stockholders of record May 10.

Today's dividend — Delta's 26th consecutive quarterly cash dividend — maintains the longest continuous dividend record in the domestic airline industry. Delta has paid dividends for each of the last eight years, beginning with 1949.

C. E. Woolman, president and general manager, reported that Delta carried 1,871,690 passengers during the nine months period, a gain of 14.9 per cent over the corresponding period last year. Revenue passenger miles increased 21.89 per cent to 940,245,000 while available seat miles jumped 30.84 per cent to 1,631,829,000.

Woolman said Delta set new operations records during the March quarter, the third quarter of the company's fiscal year ending June 30, 1957.

"The 351 million revenue passenger miles flown in the March 1957 quarter were greater than for any previous quarter and represented a 20.7 per cent increase over the corresponding 1956 quarter," he stated. "Available seat miles increased 29.9 per cent (from 450 million to 585 million) and a passenger load factor of 60 per cent was achieved."

Woolman said patronage of Delta's New York route "is improving as we enter the second year of these services." However, he explained, "extraordinarily severe weather experienced over much of our system in January and February," held net income after taxes for the quarter to $742,000 compared to $1,039,000 for the like period of 1956.

He said stockholder equity on March 31 was $33,000,000, equivalent to $29.61 per share on 1,121,882 total shares outstanding.

Delta's common stock was admitted to the New York Stock Exchange on April 17. Previously it had been traded over the counter.

Cotton Letter

Secretary Benson's speech appeared to touch off selling in the October 1958 contract which declined 27 points before it recovered. Benson called for lower prices and bigger crops to solve the cotton problem. He stated that cotton must be priced right if it is going to sell but offered no hint as to his plans for price supports for the 1958 crop. New October regained most of the early losses in what appeared to reflect belief that the futures market had already discounted Secretary Benson's speech. Furthermore some belief exists that the farm bloc legislators will oppose any lowering of price supports. Clayton continued to liquidate May at 35.3 in modest quantity. 80 squares moved at a slow pace today several southern mills were reported to have curtailed production switching to a four day, three shift week. As of April 19 unfilled call sales totalled 267,880 bales compared to 980,900 a year ago, while unfilled call purchases totalled 3,000 compared to 42,200 a year ago.

A very bullish tone predominated in today's market with futures prices advancing about 3 cents per pound on substantial commission house short covering. New life of contract highs were made across the board with market closing extremely firm near the day's best. It appears that the trade is anticipating a very firm reopening of the Australian auction on Monday. Both the New York and London futures market were actively traded with New York the stronger market today. There were no notices issued in either wool or tops today. Several sources in New York and Boston reported improved actual business at higher price levels. Further rumors of additional sales of CCC wool mainly 3-8 blood at scheduled prices were reported. Price increases by mill continue.
